previously been overlooked in this debate the book examines the construction of Africa's economic growth and development portraits over the years It looks at two institutions that play a vital role in African development providing a detailed explanation of how the World Bank and the IMF have interpreted and dealt with the African challenges and experiences The insightful analysis reveals that if Africa is rising only 20-30 per cent of Africans are aboard the rising ship and the main challenge facing the continent today is to bring on board the majority of Africans who have been excluded from growth This book makes the complex and sometimes confusing debates on Africa's economic growth experience more accessible to a wide range of readers interested in the Africa story It is essential reading for students and researchers in African Studies and will be of great interest to scholars in Development Studies Political Economy and Development Economics

African Foreign Policies in International Institutions Jason Warner, Timothy M. Shaw, 2018-05-18 This book is the first to exclusively consider the foreign policy tendencies of African states in international institutions As an edited volume offering empirically based perspectives from a variety of scholars this project disabuses the notion that Africa should be considered a niche interest in the field of foreign policy analysis It asserts that the actions of the continent's states collectively serve as an important heuristic by which to interrogate and understand the foreign policies of other global states and are not simply anomalously extant entities whose actions should be studied only insofar as they deviate from predictions based on the experiences of Western or other non-African states

"Pan" Africa Rising Rita Kiki Edozie, 2017-09-08 This book uses Nigeria's Afri-capitalist and South Africa's Ubuntu Business models as case studies that reconcile the tension between Africa Rising and Pan-African economics presenting their convergence as Africa's viable Third Way route to global development In presenting Afri-capitalism and Ubuntu Business as national business sector manifestations of a new Pan-Africanism the author explores Africa's culturalist path in engaging the international political economy This is an African customized engagement that parallels the alternative models of China's market socialism and Latin America's 21st C Socialism All present alternatives to realist liberal and structuralist standpoints inclining instead toward constructivist political economies derived from the perspectives and subject conditions of African economic histories socio-cultures alternative modernities and agent-led initiatives maintain their autonomy And what accounts for varying levels of autonomy across states Drawing on the cases of Malawi Zambia and Namibia and offering a novel analytical framework Peter VonDoepp illuminates why power holders behave as they do toward the courts VonDoepp considers whether and why political leaders have respected or undermined judicial autonomy in each of the three cases He also addresses how the courts themselves have shaped executive judicial relations His findings present unexpected challenges for existing frameworks as well as important lessons about the factors and conditions affecting judicial development in transitional states BOOK JACKET The Church and AIDS in Africa Amy Stephenson Patterson,2011 This book explores the role of the Christian church broadly and diversely defined as both institutions and communities of believers although the focus of the analysis is on institutional behaviors in the politics of HIV AIDS in Africa The author creates a typology of church AIDS actions no response early narrow response early broad response late narrow response and late broad response and seeks explanations for where churches fall within this typology in terms of institutional resources organizational structures relations with the state and global networks Africa Charles H.
