students and scholars in the field Democracy in a Time of Misery Nicole Curato, 2019-08-29 Democracy in a Time of Misery From Spectacular Tragedy to Deliberative Action investigates how democratic politics can unfold in creative and unexpected ways even at the most trying of times Drawing on three years of fieldwork in disaster affected communities in Tacloban City Philippines this book presents ethnographic portraits of how typhoon survivors actively perform their suffering to secure political gains Each chapter traces how victims are transformed to publics that gain voice and visibility in the global public sphere through disruptive protests collaborative projects and political campaigns that elected the strongman Rodrigo Duterte to presidency It also examines the micropolitics of silencing that lead communities to withdraw and lose interest in politics These ethnographic descriptions come together in a theoretical project that makes a case for a multimodal view of deliberative action It underscores the embodied visual performative and subtle ways in which affective political claims are constructed and received It concludes by arguing that while emotions play a role in amplifying marginalized political claims it also creates hierarchies of misery that renders some forms of suffering more deserving of compassion than others The book invites readers to reflect on challenging ethical issues when examining political contexts defined by widespread depravity and dispossession and the democratic ethos demanded of global publics in responding to others suffering

Communal Intimacy and the Violence of Politics Steffen Bo Jensen, Karl Hapal, 2022-05-15 Communal Intimacy and the Violence of Politics explores the notoriously brutal Philippine war on drugs from below Steffen Bo Jensen and Karl Hapal examine how the war on drugs folded itself into communal and intimate spheres in one Manila neighborhood Bagong Silang Police killings have been regular occurrences since the birth of Bagong Silang Communal Intimacy and the Violence of Politics shows that although the drug war was introduced from the outside it fit into and perpetuated already existing gendered and generational structures In Bagong Silang the war on drugs implicated local structures of authority including a justice system that had always been deeply integrated into communal relations The ways in which the war on drugs transformed these intimate relations between the state and its citizens and between neighbors may turn out to be the most lasting impact of Duterte s infamously violent policies

Class and Politics in Malaysian and Singaporean Nation Building Muhamad M. N. Nadzri, 2025-05-23
Nadzri explores a range of factors that have influenced nation building in Malaysia and Singapore with principal emphasis on the importance of social and economic class In contrast to previous studies on nation building which overwhelmingly rely on the explanatory power of culture race and ethnic community the book foregrounds the importance of social and economic status The three main themes explored in this book are how the nation building projected in each country is driven by the class interests of its ruling elites how elections have impacted the politics of nation building and how each country s nation building policies are designed to build political loyalty and support for the ruling elites The comparability of analytical outcomes using the prism of class interests uncovers the limitations of the explanatory power of race ethnic community and culture in understanding the social and political dynamics of the two countries A valuable read for scholars and students of politics in Malaysia and Singapore that will also be of interest to scholars of comparative approaches to nation building
