Race Class Women And The State:

Women, Race, & Class Angela Y. Davis, 2011-06-29 From one of our most important scholars and civil rights activist icon a powerful study of the women s liberation movement and the tangled knot of oppression facing Black women Angela Davis is herself a woman of undeniable courage She should be heard The New York Times Angela Davis provides a powerful history of the social and political influence of whiteness and elitism in feminism from abolitionist days to the present and demonstrates how the racist and classist biases of its leaders inevitably hampered any collective ambitions While Black women were aided by some activists like Sarah and Angelina Grimke and the suffrage cause found unwavering support in Frederick Douglass many women played on the fears of white supremacists for political gain rather than take an intersectional approach to liberation Here Davis not only contextualizes the legacy and pitfalls of civil and women s rights activists but also discusses Communist women the murder of Emmitt Till and Margaret Sanger s racism Davis shows readers how the inequalities between Black and white women influence the contemporary issues of rape reproductive freedom housework and child care in this bold and indispensable work

Pobladoras, Indígenas, and the State Patricia Richards, 2004 This critical analysis of the role of the state diversity of women s movements and the social and political position of indigenous peoples of Latin America provides an illuminating discussion of the ways in which the state defines women s interest and constructs women s citizenship

Race, Class, and Gender in the United States Paula S. Rothenberg, 2004 Race Class and Gender in the United States An Integrated Study presents students with a compelling clear study of issues of race gender and sexuality within the context of class Rothenberg offers students 126 readings each providing different perspectives and examining the ways in which race gender class and sexuality are socially constructed Rothenberg deftly and consistently helps students analyze each phenomena as well as the relationships among them thereby deepening their understanding of each issue surrounding race and ethnicity

Experiencing Race, Class, and Gender in the United States Virginia Cyrus, 1997

The Motherless State Eileen McDonagh, 2009-08-01 American women attain more professional success than most of their counterparts around the world but they lag surprisingly far behind in the national political arena Women held only 15 percent of U S congressional seats in 2006 a proportion that ranks America behind eighty two other countries in terms of females elected to legislative office A compelling exploration of this deficiency The Motherless State reveals why the United States differs from comparable democracies that routinely elect far more women to their national governing bodies and chief executive positions Explaining that equal rights alone do not ensure equal access to political office Eileen McDonagh shows that electoral gender parity also requires public policies that represent maternal traits Most other democracies she demonstrates view women as more suited to govern because their governments have taken on maternal roles through social welfare provisions gender quotas or the continuance of symbolic hereditary monarchies The United States has not adopted such policies and until it does McDonagh insightfully warns American women run for office with a troubling disadvantage

Racism Albert J. Wheeler, 2005 Of all mankind's vices racism is one of the most pervasive and stubborn Success in overcoming racism has been achieved from time to time but victories have been limited thus far because mankind has focused on personal economic gain or power grabs ignoring generosity of the soul This bibliography brings together the literature
