Leader Handbook of Essentials for Human Services Leadership gives leaders within human services organizations with lay or professional leadership responsibilities over 25 essential practices for human services. Special attention is paid to supervision, case management, evaluation, teamwork, and character. The content of this handbook was developed over three decades by respected leader Robert Shaw working in various services with individuals and families. His approaches are holistic and integrated for both the needs of families and the nature of a human service organization's leaders. It is estimated there are over 160 000 non-profit organizations in Canada and almost 2 million in the USA in the health care, social services, schools, and universities, community and recreation services, churches, and arts organizations. An estimated 6 000 000 American and 500 000 Canadian lay and professional leaders provide services to troubled children and their families. This book is an essential tool for these leaders in the areas of professional practices, client services, and organizational skills.

Distinguishing Clinical from Upper Level Management in Social Work Marvin D. Feit, 2013. Over the past few decades, as administrative and technological complexity has increased, so has the role and importance of administrative practice in social work. For those making the switch from front-line practice to administration and management, there is therefore a real need to prepare and enhance the knowledge base and skill set necessary at the executive level. In particular, the importance of budgeting and fiscal management, the need for accountability, negotiation between different and competing organizations, along with an understanding of decision-making, planning, and understanding levels of risk. Written by two experienced authors within social work education, this practical workbook presents the interrelated nature of decision-making and provides a model for understanding what is required in the transition from clinician to clinical and upper-level management. The text covers: The difference between clinical and upper-level management skills; The major trends that influence health and human service organizations; An analysis of the concept of leadership; The skills needed by Clinical Managers and Upper Level Managers to administer effectively. Distinguishing Clinical and Upper Level Management is a much-needed update to the field of management and administration within human service organizations and will be important reading for social work students, social service professionals, and other human service providers. The Essential Handbook for Highly Effective Human Service Professionals Tim Nolan, 2019. The Essential Handbook for Highly Effective Human Service Professionals is written to help frontline workers excel.
