

Act I, Scene I

Comprehension Questions

1. Give two reasons why Shakespeare introduced the play with minor characters.

Shakespeare introduced the play with minor characters because he wanted to ease into the show, and show how the families feel about each other. Also, if they started with the main characters, I think we wouldn't really understand exactly how severe the issues between the families are and how outrageous the families would think Romeo and Juliet's relationship is.

2. Identify the character who tries to convince them to put up their swords. How is his name appropriate? What is his connection to Romeo?

Benvolio is the one who convinces them to put up their swords. He is Romeo's cousin.

3. Who wishes to continue the fight? For what reason? What does this tell us about his personality?

Tybalt wishes to continue the fight. He wants to because he sees that Benvolio has his sword drawn and thinks that it would be silly to say you want to keep the peace while still having a sword drawn. This shows that he is someone who doesn't necessarily like keeping peace and does not mind fighting.

4. What edict does the Prince pronounce because of the brawl? Why would a prince have such power in Elizabethan times?
