GRAMMAR

THE VERB

The verb is the most important word in a sentence. It tells us what is happening or what someone is doing. Verbs can be used in many different ways, and it is important to know the rules for using them correctly.

Verb forms

Verbs have different forms, including the base form, the past tense, the past participle, and the present participle. For example, the verb 'write' has the following forms: write (base form), wrote (past tense), written (past participle), and writing (present participle).

Verb tenses

Verb tenses are used to show the time of an action. The most common tenses are the present tense, the past tense, and the future tense. Each tense has different verb forms and is used in different contexts.

Verb agreement

Verb agreement is the process of making the verb match the subject of the sentence. For example, 'He writes' is correct because 'writes' agrees with the singular subject 'He'. 'They write' is also correct because 'write' agrees with the plural subject 'They'.

SENTENCES

A sentence is a group of words that expresses a complete thought. Sentences can be simple, compound, or complex. Each type of sentence has its own structure and rules for construction.

Simple sentences

A simple sentence consists of a single independent clause. It contains a subject and a predicate. For example, 'The cat sat on the mat.' is a simple sentence.

Compound sentences

A compound sentence consists of two or more independent clauses joined together by a coordinating conjunction (and, but, or, so, yet). For example, 'The cat sat on the mat, and the dog barked.' is a compound sentence.

Complex sentences

A complex sentence consists of one independent clause and one or more dependent clauses. The dependent clause is introduced by a subordinating conjunction (because, although, when, if, etc.). For example, 'Because the cat was hungry, it ate the food.' is a complex sentence.

ADJECTIVES

Adjectives are words that describe nouns. They provide more information about the noun, such as its size, color, or location. For example, 'The red car was parked in the garage.' 'Red' is an adjective describing the noun 'car'.

ADVERBS

Adverbs are words that describe verbs, adjectives, or other adverbs. They provide more information about the action or the quality being described. For example, 'She ran quickly to the store.' 'Quickly' is an adverb describing the verb 'ran'.

PREPOSITIONS

Prepositions are words that show the relationship between a noun and another part of the sentence. They often indicate location, time, or direction. For example, 'The book is on the table.' 'On' is a preposition showing the relationship between 'the book' and 'the table'.

CONJUNCTIONS

Conjunctions are words that connect two or more words, phrases, or clauses. They are used to create compound and complex sentences. For example, 'I like apples and oranges.' 'And' is a conjunction connecting 'apples' and 'oranges'.

INTERJECTIONS

Interjections are words that express strong emotions or feelings. They are often used to draw attention to something or to express surprise, anger, or excitement. For example, 'Wow, that's amazing!' 'Wow' is an interjection.

EMPHASIS & CHANGING MEANINGS

Emphasis is the process of making a word or phrase stand out in a sentence. It can be achieved through various means, such as repetition, italics, or boldface. Changing meanings involves using the same word in different contexts to convey different ideas or feelings.

SENTENCE PLANS & PARAGRAPHS

Sentence plans are outlines that help writers organize their thoughts and ideas before writing a paragraph. They typically consist of a topic sentence, supporting sentences, and a concluding sentence. Paragraphs are groups of related sentences that develop a single idea or theme.
