that Creepshow is the only full collaboration between America's bestselling author of horror tales and one of the masters of modern American horror cinema. Long considered too mainstream for the director of Dawn of the Dead (1978) and too comic for the author that gave audiences the film versions of Carrie (1976) and The Shining (1980) and too violent for a cinemagoing public turning away from gore cinema in the autumn of 1982, Creepshow is here reassessed by Simon Brown who examines the making and release of the film and its legacy through a comic book adaptation and two sequels. His analysis focuses on the key influences on the film, not just Romero and King but also the anthology horrors of Amicus Productions, body horror cinema, and the special make-up effects of Tom Savini, the relationship between horror and humor, and most notably the tradition of EC horror comics of the 1950s from which the film draws both its thematic preoccupations and its visual style. Ultimately, the book argues that not only is Creepshow a major work in the canons of Romero and King but also that it represents a significant example of the portmanteau horror film of the blending of horror and comedy, and finally, decades before the career of Zack Snyder's Watchmen and Man of Steel, of attempting to recreate a comic book aesthetic on the big screen.

Creepshow #1 Steve Langford, Dini Paul, Chris Burnham, 2022-09-21 The worldwide phenomenon based on the hit Shudder TV series comes to comics in a star-studded five-issue anthology series that will SCARE YOU TO DEATH. In the debut issue, CHRIS BURNHAM's DIE DIE DIE NAMELESS terrifies with a tale of trick-or-treaters who are taught what happens when you mess with the wrong house. Then, legendary Batman: The Animated Series creator PAUL DINI STEVE LANGFORD and JOHN McCREA's DEAD EYES Hitman petrify with the party antics of Shingo, the birthday clown with an appetite for more than cake. Each issue of CREEPSHOW will feature different creative teams with uniquely horrifying standalone stories.

Adapting Stephen King Joseph Maddrey, 2023-08-04 Stephen King's fiction has formed the basis of more motion picture adaptations than any other living author. His earliest short stories, collected in the Night Shift anthology, have been adapted into hit features including Creepshow, Children of the Corn, Cat's Eye, Maximum Overdrive, Graveyard Shift, Sometimes They Come Back, and The Mangler. Through his Dollar Baby program, King licensed several Night Shift stories to aspiring filmmakers for just one dollar each, resulting in numerous student film adaptations. This book critically examines and contextualizes adaptations of the Night Shift short stories from big box office features to relatively unknown student films. It illuminates how each film is a uniquely and intricately collaborative endeavor and charts the development of each adaptation from first option to final cut. Through old and new interviews with the creators, the work explores how filmmakers continue to reinvent, reimagine, remake, and reboot King's stories.
