Biotechnology has been labelled as one of the key technologies of the last two decades of the 20th Century offering boundless solutions to problems ranging from food and agricultural production to pharmaceutical and medical applications as well as environmental and bioremediation problems Biological processes however are complex and the prevailing mechanisms are either unknown or poorly understood This means that adequate techniques for data acquisition and analysis leading to appropriate modeling and simulation packages that can be superimposed on the engineering principles need to be routine tools for future biotechnologists The present volume presents a masterly summary of the most recent work in the field covering instrumentation systems enzyme technology environmental biotechnology food applications and metabolic engineering 19th European Symposium on Computer Aided Process Engineering Jacek Jezowski, Jan

Thullie, 2009-06-12 The 19th European Symposium on Computer Aided Process Engineering contains papers presented at the 19th European Symposium of Computer Aided Process Engineering ESCAPE 19 held in Cracow Poland June 14 17 2009 The ESCAPE series serves as a forum for scientists and engineers from academia and industry to discuss progress achieved in the area of CAPE CD ROM that accompanies the book contains all research papers and contributions International in scope with guest speeches and keynote talks from leaders in science and industry Presents papers covering the latest research key top areas and developments in computer aided process engineering CAPE AIChE Symposium Series American Institute of Chemical Engineers, 1998 Advances in Chemical Engineering, 1992-09-08 Advances in Chemical Engineering

Nonlinear Programming Lorenz T. Biegler, 2010-01-01 This book addresses modern nonlinear programming NLP concepts and algorithms especially as they apply to challenging applications in chemical process engineering The author provides a firm grounding in fundamental NLP properties and algorithms and relates them to real world problem classes in process optimization thus making the material understandable and useful to chemical engineers and experts in mathematical optimization Chemical Process Control 2 Engineering Foundation (U.S.). Conference, 1982 CJChE, 1999-02

Process Control and Management P.L. Lee, R.B. Newell, I.T. Cameron, 1998 The purpose of this book is to provide a balanced introduction to process control and management aimed at the general process engineer Rapid changes have occurred in process control over the past decade mainly because of the deployment of robust and effective digital control equipment and the development of the models which underpin the area Historically process control was seen as simply the maintenance of particular process variables at appropriate setpoints This very narrow view has been superseded by the view that process control involves the regulation of any given process in the context of a complete processing plant to maximise the economic return from the plant This wider definition brings into play a range of control regimes from basic regulatory control through advanced regulatory control to complex process management The organization of the book reflects this hierarchy and is thus split into 3 parts covering basic regulatory control advanced process control and finally process management The book is completed by the inclusion of several useful appendices covering mathematical modelling process optimisation and simulation

Computer-oriented Process Engineering L. Puigjaner, A. España, 1991 The proceedings of COPE 91 represent the continuing effort of both the scientific and industrial community to make known what is new in research and development in the increasingly important interdisciplinary field of computers in chemical engineering The symposium focussed on the following topics Artificial Intelligence in Chemical Engineering Computer Integrated Process Engineering Reliability and Risk Assessment Process Design under Uncertainty Education and Training in Computer Applications The theoretical and practical aspects of the use of computers in chemical engineering covered in this book should find wide use in libraries and research facilities and should have a direct impact in the chemical industry particularly in production automation utility networks and computer integrated process engineering

Dynamic Process Modeling, 2010-12-06 Inspired by the leading authority in the field the Centre for Process Systems Engineering at Imperial College London this book includes theoretical developments algorithms methodologies and tools in process systems engineering and applications from the chemical energy molecular biomedical and other areas It spans a whole range of length scales seen in manufacturing industries from molecular and nanoscale phenomena to enterprise wide optimization and control As such this will appeal to a broad readership since the topic applies not only to all technical processes but also due to the interdisciplinary expertise required to solve the challenge The ultimate reference work for years to come

Foundations of Computer-aided Process Design Jeffrey J. Siirola, Ignacio E. Grossmann, George Stephanopoulos, 1990 Improved process engineering in general and better process design specifically hold the key to technology advancement in the chemical as well as biological electronic and other processing industries This volume contains the proceedings of the Third International Conference on Foundations of Computer Aided Process Design which brought together engineers scientists and graduate student researchers from a number of industrial academic and government institutions throughout the world to assess and discuss the current status and future directions of computer aided process engineering The specific objectives of the conference were to provide a forum for an in depth review of the current state of the art in chemical process design as well as an introduction to process and product design in other disciplines an evaluation of current and future needs in process design a formulation of new research directions in computer aided process design and an examination of educational needs in chemical engineering design
