The Bloomsbury Handbook of Anglophone Literature and Migration Nicoletta Vallorani, Simona Bertacco, William Boelhower, 2025-10-16 Focusing on a significant 70 year period as a climactic phase of displacement the book investigates the role of literature in producing new modes of representing and understanding migration in a global context Globally felt and reported as a geographical sociological anthropological and historical phenomenon migration has produced an unprecedented corpus of literary narratives that demands to be approached through its own set of cross disciplinary critical approaches This Handbook explores tales of migration via a systematic study of the large corpus of Anglophone literary texts that have been written by migrant authors and or on the topic of migration between 1946 and 2016 from the start of the United Nations International Migration Report to the first year in which the number of displaced people reached the level of the Second World War marking a new phase in global migrations Given the dominance of English as a world language often used by writers who are not native speakers the volume covers Anglophone writing providing a substantially representative corpus that includes texts from or about Europe Africa North and Central America and the South Asia and Pacific region Starting from a critical approach that is inherently interdisciplinary authors consider the notion of the border and how it has changed over time show how traditional literary genres have morphed and hybridized to become suitable expressive tools for the new stories of migration reflect on how the movement across borders and countries creates migrant identities that are not only linguistic but invests all aspects of one s life and worldview and includes authors voices a small but representative group to both justify and test the critical approaches proposed

Postcolonial Poetics Elleke Boehmer, 2018-06-27 Postcolonial Poetics is about how we read postcolonial and world literatures today and about how the structures of that writing shape our reading The book s eight chapters explore the ways in which postcolonial writing in English from various 21st century contexts including southern and West Africa and Black and Asian Britain interacts with our imaginative understanding of the world Throughout the focus is on reading practices where reading is taken as an inventive border traversing activity one that postcolonial writing with its interests in margins intersections subversions and crossings specifically encourages This close sustained focus on reading reception and literariness is an outstanding feature of the study as is its wide generic range embracing poetry essays and life writing as well as fiction The field defining scholar Elleke Boehmer holds that literature has the capacity to keep reimagining and refreshing how we understand ourselves in relation to the world and to some of the most pressing questions of our time including resistance reconciliation survival after terror and migration
