American Badass:

Mapping Generations of Traumatic Memory in American Narratives Dana Mihăilescu, Roxana Oltean, Mihaela Precup, 2014-06-12 This volume collects work by several European North American and Australian academics who are interested in examining the performance and transmission of post traumatic memory in the contemporary United States The contributors depart from the interpretation of trauma as a unique exceptional event that shatters all systems of representation as seen in the writing of early trauma theorists like Cathy Caruth Shoshana Felman and Dominick LaCapra Rather the chapters in this collection are in conversation with more recent readings of trauma such as Michael Rothberg's multidirectional memory 2009 the role of mediation and remediation in the dynamics of cultural memory Astrid Erll 2012 Aleida Assman 2011 and Stef Craps focus on postcolonial witnessing and its cross cultural dimension 2013 The corpus of post traumatic narratives under discussion includes fiction diaries memoirs films visual narratives and oral testimonies A complicated dialogue between various and sometimes conflicting narratives is thus generated and examined along four main lines in this volume trauma in the context of multidirectional memory the representation of trauma in autobiographical texts the dynamic of public forms of national commemoration and the problematic instantiation of 9 11 as a traumatic landmark

The Werewolf Filmography Bryan Senn, 2017-02-20 From the horrific to the heroic cinematic werewolves are metaphors for our savage nature symbolizing the secret bestial side of humanity that hides beneath our civilized veneer Examining acknowledged classics like The Wolf Man 1941 and The Howling 1981 as well as overlooked gems like Dog Soldiers 2011 this comprehensive filmography covers the highs and lows of the genre Information is provided on production cast and filmmakers along with critical discussion of the tropes and underlying themes that make the werewolf a terrifying but fascinating figure

FDR in American Memory Sara Polak, 2021-12-14 How was FDR's image constructed by himself and others as such a powerful icon in American memory In polls of historians and political scientists Franklin Delano Roosevelt consistently ranks among the top three American presidents Roosevelt enjoyed an enormous political and cultural reach one that stretched past his presidency and across the world A grand narrative of Roosevelt's crucial role in the twentieth century persists the notion that American ideology embodied by FDR overcame the Depression and won World War II while fascism communism and imperialism and their ignoble figureheads fought one another to death in Europe This grand narrative is flawed and problematic legitimizing the United States's cultural diplomatic and military role in the world order but it has meant that FDR continues to loom large in American culture In FDR in American Memory Sara Polak analyzes Roosevelt's construction as a cultural icon in American memory from two perspectives First she examines him as a historical leader one who carefully and intentionally built his public image Focusing on FDR's use of media and his negotiation of the world as a disabled person she shows how he consistently aligned himself with modernity and future proof narratives and modes of rhetoric Second Polak looks at portrayals and negotiations of the FDR icon in cultural memory from the vantage point of the early twenty first century Drawing on recent and well known cultural artifacts including novels movies documentaries popular biographies museums and memorials she demonstrates how FDR positioned himself as a rhetorically modern and powerful but ideologically almost empty container That deliberate positioning Polak writes continues to allow almost any narrative to adopt him as a relevant historical example even now As a study of presidential image fashioning FDR in American Memory will be of immediate relevance to present day readers American Badass Michael Madsen, Michael P. Naughton, 2009 Michael Madsen is more than just the critically acclaimed actor best known for his role as Mr Blonde in Quentin Tarantino's Reservoir Dogs he is also a prize winning poet Michael's first professionally published book Burning in Paradise won the Independent Firecracker Award in 1998 The Complete Poetic Works of Michael Madsen Vol I 1995 2005 which was published by 13 Hands Publications in 2005 is a complete ten year volume and compilation of his work He has since chronicled his life and travels as an actor and photographer in Signs of Life 2006 and in 2008 Michael gained international attention when his book Burning In Paradise was translated in Norwegian for the first time He has since then been invited to Italy and Mexico as a poet Michael Madsen's forthcoming book American Badass will be released on September 25 2009 and is a stunning photo journey of Madsen's iconic and cinematic history interspersed with new poetry Michael Madsen continues to turn in edge of the seat performances but his poetry continues to tell the backstory of his life
