In addition to color swatches, you can use the ability to apply various gradients to objects.

1 With the circle selected, click the Tools Panel button on the toolbar, set the Type to Linear to apply a default gradient. Drag across your object to set a custom path for the gradient.

2 Drag across the artwork to change the length and direction of the gradient path, and drag the midpoint marker to change the midpoint of the gradient between the current colors.

3 Rotate the circle along the axis to apply a blue gradient to the object, which can then be moved along the gradient path.

With the circle selected, click the Tools Panel button on the toolbar, set the Type to Radial to apply a default gradient. Drag across your object to set a custom path for the gradient.

2 Drag across the artwork to change the length and direction of the gradient path, and drag the midpoint marker to change the midpoint of the gradient between the current colors.

3 Rotate the circle along the axis to apply a blue gradient to the object, which can then be moved along the gradient path.

An alternative to an address to working with gradients directly on the object, there is a Gradients editor available from the Color window in the toolbar. This Gradients editor gives you high precision drag positioning as well as a few additional options.

You can work with Elliptical and Radial gradients in Adobe Photoshop in a similar way to Linear gradients. To create a custom Radial gradient, use the Type pop-up menu on the top toolbar. Radial gradients are available in the Color & Transparency window.
