

Costal Engineering

Costal Engineering is a branch of civil engineering that deals with the design and construction of structures and systems that are exposed to the forces of the sea. This includes the design of harbors, piers, breakwaters, and other coastal structures. It also involves the study of coastal erosion and the development of strategies to protect the coastline.

The field of coastal engineering is a multidisciplinary one, drawing on principles from civil engineering, geotechnical engineering, and oceanography. It is a challenging and rewarding profession that offers a wide range of opportunities for professional growth and development. Coastal engineers are responsible for the design and construction of structures that are exposed to the forces of the sea, and they must be able to withstand the harsh conditions of the coastal environment.
