The Effects of Trauma Jim Banks,2011-03 The following book describes a prayer tool that I stumbled across in late 2009 by putting pieces of the teachings of three of God s faithful servants together and adding a couple of others steps The power of it to virtually eliminate many of the symptoms that victims of trauma complain of has proven to be nothing short of miraculous Over the last 25 years of praying for physical and emotional healing I have prayed numerous prayers that at least in my estimation availed little But the last 400 or 500 folks or so that I have ministered this over have experienced relief that has been both instantaneous and up to this point permanent I am also happy to report that the recipients have experienced some significant results after having been prayed over in groups of 25 to 175 persons

First Responder Careers Expose Individuals to Higher Risks of Developing Trauma

Some careers include a higher likelihood of experiencing traumatic events that can lead to the development of PTSD Serving in the military is a high risk factor for developing PTSD However combat veterans develop PTSD at different rates depending on the severity and length of exposure to traumatic experiences There are also high incidences of reported sexual harassment and sexual abuse in the military As a result the rates of PTSD are relatively high compared to the overall prevalence in the general population Not only can law enforcement officers experience direct threats and stressful conditions but they also regularly witness the devastating effects of assaults robberies kidnappings and violent events However individuals in this profession have lower than expected rates of PTSD surprisingly An estimated 20 percent overall may result from having access to counseling and rigorous pre employment screenings EMTs and paramedics are routinely exposed to life threatening incidents and have more health problems than individuals in other occupations PTSD rates in this group are as high as 20 percent PTSD prevalence in this profession is comparable to law enforcement

conduct paramedic activities and are the first responders to natural disasters Firefighting is a dangerous profession that exposes workers to stressful conditions and traumatic events ranging from threats to their safety and experiencing the devastating effects of catastrophes As a result the prevalence of PTSD in this group can be as high as 20 percent Volunteer firefighters may have even higher rates because they don't have access to the same level of support as career firefighters

especially those working in emergency rooms and intensive care units are also at higher risk For example nurses working in critical care units are more likely to develop PTSD than nurses in other groups In addition while senior level nurses report fewer PTSD symptoms than junior ones they report higher rates of burnout Finally healthcare workers exposed to patients that have experienced violence such as an assault victim are more likely to develop PTSD than surgeons who treat assault victims

medical workers and volunteers who act as first responders during disasters witness the aftermath of horrific events and can even become involved in severe traumatic events The prevalence of PTSD in these individuals has been estimated to be between 15 and 30 percent

who work as war correspondents are at higher risk of being injured killed or kidnapped Their lifetime prevalence of PTSD which can be as high as 30 percent reflects their lack of access to support and PTSD treatment options

Transit and train operators are frequently exposed to physical threats and witness suicide incidents such as person under train events Exposure to these traumatic and threatening circumstances can be a daily or weekly occurrence

Bus drivers

are more prone to PTSD because they have more direct contact with the general public than train drivers locked in secure train cabs In these high risk professions the incidence of trauma declines when policies are in place to debrief victims give victims immediate access to counseling and screen for individuals at high risk of having adverse reactions to traumatic conditions Healing Sexual Trauma Workbook Erika Shershun,2021-07 Overcome shame and stigma and bring a newly felt sense of safety awareness and life to your body If you ve experienced rape sexual abuse molestation or sexual trauma you may feel as if you ve lost your sense of self You may have difficulty setting boundaries or building satisfying sexual relationships Sometimes you may even feel like your body isn t your own You aren t alone The scars of sexual trauma exist not only in the mind but also in the body And in order to heal build resilience and discover a sense of hope you must address both Drawing on the powerful mind body techniques of somatic therapy The Healing Sexual Trauma Workbook is a step by step guide to overcoming the psychological effects of sexual trauma and increasing positive body awareness and vitality You ll find tools to help you create an internal sense of safety and become more embodied and present You ll also discover ways to establish boundaries move beyond intense feelings like shame fear and guilt and deal effectively with triggers Finally you ll learn how to cultivate self compassion and the confidence needed to live your best life What happened to you isn t your fault and it doesn t define you With the right tools you can live a full and satisfying life beyond sexual trauma This workbook will help guide you every step of the way
