Studies in French Applied Linguistics Dalila Ayoun,2008-10-29 Studies in French Applied Linguistics invites the reader to adopt a broad perspective on applied linguistics illustrating the fascinating multifaceted work researchers are conducted in so many various inter connected subfields The five chapters of the first part are dedicated to the first and second language acquisition of French in various settings First language acquisition by normal children from a generative perspective and by children with Specific Language Impairment second language acquisition in Canadian immersion settings from a neurolinguistic approach to phonology and natural language processing and CALL The six chapters of the second part explore the contribution of French in various subfields of applied linguistics such as an anthropological approach to literacy issues in Guadeloupean Kr y l literacy issues in new technologies phonological and lexical innovations in the banlieues French in North Africa language planning and policy in Quebec as well as the emerging field of forensic linguistics from an historical perspective

French Applied Linguistics Dalila Ayoun,2007-01-11 This state of the art volume on French Applied Linguistics includes two introductory chapters the first summarizes the past present and future of French in applied linguistics and the second reviews the history of French from a sociolinguistic perspective The six chapters of the first part cover the core aspects of the second language acquisition of French phonology semantics syntax syntax morphology pragmatics sociolinguistics and grammatical gender The seven chapters of the second part explore the contribution of French in various subfields of applied linguistics such as language ideology and foreign language pedagogy corpus linguistics and French Sign Language A chapter studies the role of affective variables on language learning while another investigates natural language and lexical creativity The chapters on creole studies and applied linguistics in West Africa address issues in first and second language acquisition in complex sociolinguistic and political contexts The last chapter serves as an epilogue focusing on Louisiana a region rich in linguistic history French Language Teaching in Africa Emmanuel N. Kwofie,1985

Teaching French Robert Louis Politzer,1965 Second Language Learning and Language Teaching Vivian Cook,2016-05-05 Second Language Learning and Language Teaching provides an introduction to the application of second language acquisition research to language teaching Assuming no previous background in second language acquisition or language teaching methods this text starts by introducing readers to the basic issues of second language acquisition research It then examines how people learn particular aspects of the second language such as grammar vocabulary pronunciation and the writing system and at the strategies they adopt in their learning and the differences between individuals Final chapters look at second language learning in a broader context the goals of language teaching and how teaching methods relate to SLA research This newly updated fifth edition builds on the comprehensive scope of earlier editions while also addressing more recent developments in the field particularly multilingual approaches to language teaching Routledge Encyclopedia of Language Teaching and Learning Michael Byram,Adelheid Hu,2013-06-26 The Routledge Encyclopedia of Language

Teaching and Learning is an authoritative reference dealing with all aspects of this increasingly important field of study. Offering a comprehensive range of articles on contemporary language teaching and its history, it has been produced specifically for language teaching professionals and as a reference work for academic studies at postgraduate level. In this new edition, every single entry has been reviewed and updated with reference to new developments and publications. Coverage has been expanded to reflect new technological, global, and academic developments, with particular attention to areas such as online and distance learning, teacher and learner cognition, testing, assessment, and evaluation, global English, and teacher education. Themes and disciplines covered include Methods and materials, including new technologies and materials development; Contexts and concepts, such as mediation, risk taking in language learning, and intercomprehension; Influential figures from the early days of language teaching to the contemporary; Related disciplines, such as psychology, anthropology, and corpus linguistics. It covers the teaching of specific languages, including Japanese, Chinese, Arabic, and African languages, as well as English, French, German, and Spanish. There are thirty-five overview articles dealing with issues such as communicative language teaching, early language learning, teacher education, and syllabus and curriculum design. A further 160 entries focus on topics such as bilingualism, language laboratories, and study abroad. Numerous shorter items examine language and cultural institutions, professional associations, and acronyms. Multiple cross-references enable the user to browse from one entry to another, and there are suggestions for further reading. Written by an international team of specialists, the Routledge Encyclopedia of Language Teaching and Learning is an invaluable resource and reference manual for anyone with a professional or academic interest in the subject.

Early Learning of Modern Foreign Languages

Marianne Nikolov, 2009. Modern languages are taught to young learners at an increasingly early age, yet few publications focus on what is available to children in different contexts and classrooms. This book represents the state of the art in research on young language learners. Covering a range of languages, contexts, and research methods, it provides insights into how young learners progress.

The Acquisition of French as a Second Language Martin Howard, 2025-05-05. The Acquisition of French as a Second Language: A Research Overview is the first text to present in one place a comprehensive, systematic overview of research on the acquisition of French as a second or additional language. Drawing on classic and current empirical studies on learner cohorts at different proficiency stages in various learning contexts all over the world, Martin Howard expertly synthesises and analyses a range of linguistic features, factors affecting learning, theoretical approaches, or conceptual frameworks, and methodological or experimental issues in French SLA, and connects these insights from L2 French to key applied and theoretical questions in SLA research more broadly. The text further offers details of key corpora of L2 French data and sets the agenda for future work in French SLA by indicating gaps in the literature and recommending directions for future research. This unique cohesive volume will be an invaluable foundational resource to advanced students and researchers in SLA, bilingualism, multilingualism, French Romance studies, applied linguistics, language education and related areas to those who are interested in LOTE languages other than English and French SLA in particular. It will also be useful to those studying to become French second language educators.

The Handbook of Plurilingual and Intercultural Language Learning Christiane Fäcke, Xuesong (Andy) Gao, Paula Garrett-Rucks, 2024-11-08. The most up to date reference text on the latest science in plurilingual and intercultural language education covering both new research and current practice. The Handbook of Plurilingual and Intercultural Language Learning reveals the nuances and complexities of teaching and learning languages while providing a timely account of the most recent developments and research in the field. The first reference work to examine plurilingual and intercultural language teaching and learning trends across five continents, this innovative volume examines the various ways learners acquire language. Divided into four sections, this Handbook explains the conceptual basis of intercultural and plurilingual learning, describes core pedagogical concepts in different contexts, discusses various learning and teaching approaches, and surveys the historical development of foreign language instruction methods and theories. In depth chapters address code switching and translanguaging equity in foreign language learning, intercultural sensitivity, technology enhanced learning, world Englishes, the role of language policy in nation building, the situations of migrants in language classrooms, and more. A field defining overview of the latest research on the science of language education and acquisition. The Handbook of Plurilingual and Intercultural Language Learning explores how policy and pedagogy can adapt to the shifting demographics of local student populations as the world becomes increasingly mobile. Addresses new trends and evolving themes that are currently determining the future of language education and policy around the world. Discusses future trends in language education, policy, assessment, and teacher training in light of new attitudes about language, community, and statehood. Features contributions from a wide range of scholars reflecting different cultural, linguistic, regional, and ideological perspectives. Introduces European research discourses on intercomprehension into the English speaking world. Part of the Wiley Blackwell Handbooks in Linguistics series. The Handbook of Plurilingual and Intercultural Language Learning is an essential resource for students, educators, and researchers in Applied Linguistics, language teaching and learning, English as a Lingua Franca, plurilingualism, multilingualism, TESOL, cognitive linguistics, language policy, language acquisition, and intercultural communication.

New Directions for Research in Foreign Language Education Simon Coffey, Ursula Wingate, 2017-10-23. New Directions for Research in Foreign Language Education brings together contributions by reputed scholars that examine the challenges, opportunities, and benefits of teaching and learning foreign languages. With a particular focus on languages other than English, the book looks at the socio-political dimension of language learning and teaching and the need to re-theorize multilingualism for our age. The volume includes a range of perspectives from language teaching as an act of reconciliation to language learning across the lifespan, from innovations in assessment and curriculum to critical appraisals of pedagogy and textbook materials. Each chapter presents a clear case study drawn from diverse contexts to illustrate the different concerns.
