The British Cinema Book:

The British Cinema Book Robert Murphy, 2019-07-25 The new edition of The British Cinema Book has been thoroughly revised and updated to provide a comprehensive introduction to the major periods genres studios film makers and debates in British cinema from the 1890s to the present The book has five sections addressing debates and controversies industry genre and representation British cinema 1895 1939 British cinema from World War II to the 1970s and contemporary British cinema Within these sections leading scholars and critics address a wide range of issues and topics including British cinema as a national cinema its complex relationship with Hollywood film censorship key British genres such as horror comedy and costume film the work of directors including Alfred Hitchcock Anthony Asquith Alexander Mackendrick Michael Powell Lindsay Anderson Ken Russell and Mike Leigh studios such as Gainsborough Ealing Rank and Gaumont and recent signs of hope for the British film industry such as the rebirth of the low budget British horror picture and the emergence of a British Asian cinema Discussions are illustrated with case studies of key films many of which are new to this edition including Piccadilly 1929 It Always Rains on Sunday 1947 The Ladykillers 1955 This Sporting Life 1963 The Devils 1971 Withnail and I 1986 Bend it Like Beckham 2002 and Control 2007 and with over 100 images from the BFI's collection The Editor Robert Murphy is Professor in Film Studies at De Montfort University and has written and edited a number of books on British cinema including British Cinema and the Second World War 2000 and Directors in British and Irish Cinema 2006 The contributors Ian Aitken Charles Barr Geoff Brown William Brown Stella Bruzzi Jon Burrows James Chapman Steve Chibnall Pamela Church Gibson Ian Conrich Richard Dacre Raymond Durnat Allen Eyles Christine Geraghty Christine Gledhill Kevin Gough Yates Sheldon Hall Benjamin Halligan Sue Harper Erik Hedling Andrew Hill John Hill Peter Hutchings Nick James Marcia Landy Barbara Korte Alan Lovell Brian McFarlane Martin McLoone Andrew Moor Robert Murphy Lawrence Napper Michael O Pray Jim Pines Vincent Porter Tim Pulleine Jeffrey Richards James C Robertson Tom Ryall Justin Smith Andrew Spicer Claudia Sternberg Sarah Street Melanie Williams and Linda Wood Sixties British Cinema Robert Murphy, 2019-07-25 British films of the 1960s are undervalued Their search for realism has often been dismissed as drabness and their more frivolous efforts can now appear just empty headed Robert Murphy's Sixties British Cinema is the first study to challenge this view He shows that the realist tradition of the late 50s and early 60s was anything but dreary and depressing and gave birth to a clutch of films remarkable for their confidence and vitality Saturday Night and Sunday Morning A Kind of Loving and A Taste of Honey are only the better known titles Sixties British Cinema revalues key genres of the period horror crime and comedy and takes a fresh look at the swinging London films finding disturbing undertones that reflect the cultural changes of the decade Now that our cinematic past is constantly recycled on television Murphy's informative engaging and perceptive review of these films and their cultural and industrial context offers an invaluable guide to this neglected era of British cinema British National Cinema Sarah Street, 2009-06-02 The eclectic nature of British cinema is explored in this examination of genres from the Ealing comedies to heritage films Viewed against the social financial and political background this is an indispensable evaluation of British cinema British Cinema Book (The). ,1997

British Cinema and the Second World War Robert Murphy,2005-08-15 The author provides a decade by decade analysis of every film ever made in Britain about World War II It provides a comprehensive account of how Britain has portrayed the war through films

British Cinema Robert Murphy,2014 A new title in the Routledge Major Works series Critical Concepts in Media and Cultural Studies this is a four volume collection of foundational and cutting edge research on British cinema

The British 'B' Film Steve Chibnall,Brian McFarlane,2017-10-07 This is the first book to provide a thorough examination of the British B movie from the war years to the 1960s The authors draw on archival research contemporary trade papers and interviews with key B filmmakers to map the B movie phenomenon both as artefact and as industry product and as a reflection on their times

Robert Paul and the Origins of British Cinema Ian Christie,2019-12-09 The early years of film were dominated by competition between inventors in America and France especially Thomas Edison and the Lumi re brothers But while these have generally been considered the foremost pioneers of film they were not the only crucial figures in its inception Telling the story of the white hot years of filmmaking in the 1890s Robert Paul and the Origins of British Cinema seeks to restore Robert Paul Britain s most important early innovator in film to his rightful place From improving upon Edison s Kinetoscope to cocreating the first movie camera in Britain to building England s first film studio and launching the country s motion picture industry Paul played a key part in the history of cinema worldwide It s not only Paul s story however that historian Ian Christie tells here Robert Paul and the Origins of British Cinema also details the race among inventors to develop lucrative technologies and the jumbled culture of patent snatching showmanship and music halls that prevailed in the last decade of the nineteenth century Both an in depth biography and a magnificent look at early cinema and fin de si cle Britain Robert Paul and the Origins of British Cinema is a first rate cultural history of a fascinating era of global invention and the revelation of one of its undervalued contributors

British Cinema of the 90s Robert Murphy,2019-07-25 This work examines major box office hits like The Full Monty as well as critically acclaimed films like Under the Skin It explores the role of distribution and exhibition the Americanisation of British film culture Hollywood and Europe changing representations of sexuality and ethnicity

The British Cinema Boom, 1909-1914 Jon Burrows,2017-11-26 This book examines why thousands of cinemas opened in Britain in the space of a few years before the start of the First World War It explains how they were the product of an investment boom which observers characterised as economically irrational and irresponsible Burrows profiles the main groups of people who started cinema companies during this period and those who bought shares in them and considers whether the early cinema business might be seen as a bubble that burst The book examines the impact of the Cinematograph Act 1909 upon the boom and explains why British film production seemed to decline in inverse proportion to the mass expansion of the market for moving image entertainment This account also takes a new look at the development of film distribution the emergence of the feature film and the creation of the British Board of Film Censors Making systematic and pioneering use of surviving business and local government records this book will appeal to anyone interested in silent cinema the history of film exhibition and the economics of popular culture Alfred Hitchcock & the British Cinema Tom Ryall,1986 First published in 1986 this standard account of Hitchcock s British films and film making is now available again in a Second Edition with a new Introduction and Bibliography It will be welcomed by all students of the film and admirers of Hitchcock

The British working class in postwar film Philip Gillett,2019-01-04 An incidental pleasure of watching a film is what it tells us about the society in which it is made Using a sociological model The British working class in postwar film looks at how working class people were portrayed in British feature films in the decade after the Second World War Though some of the films examined are well known others have been forgotten and deserve reassessment Original statistical data is used to assess the popularity of the films with audiences With its interdisciplinary approach and the avoidance of jargon this book seeks to broaden the approach to film studies Students of media and cultural studies are introduced to the skills of other disciplines while sociologists and historians are encouraged to consider the value of film evidence in their own fields This work should appeal to all readers interested in social history and in how cinema and society works Black Film, British Cinema Institute of Contemporary Arts (London, England),1988

John Mills and British Cinema Gill Plain,2006-03-23 Although his film career extended from the early days of sound to the British New Wave and beyond Sir John Mills is nonetheless remembered as the archetypal hero of the Second World War Regarded as an English everyman his performances crossed the class divide and in his easy transition from below decks to above he came to represent a newly democratic masculine ideal But what was this exemplary masculinity and what became of it in the aftermath of war John Mills and British Cinema asks how was it possible for an actor to embody national identity and by exploring the cultural contexts in which Mills and the nation became synonymous the book offers a new perspective on 40 years of cinema and social change Through detailed analysis of a wide range of classic British films John Mills and British Cinema exposes the shifting constructions of national masculinity arguing that the screen persona of the actor is a fundamental and often overlooked dimension of British cinema Sixties British Cinema Reconsidered Duncan Petrie,2020-03-02 Challenging assumptions around Sixties stardom the book focuses on creative collaboration and the contribution of production personnel beyond the director and discusses how cultural change is reflected in both film style and cinematic themes Publisher description

The British Film Industry in 25 Careers Geoffrey Macnab,2021-01-28 The British Film Industry in 25 Careers tells the history of the British film industry from an unusual perspective that of various mavericks visionaries and outsiders who often against considerable odds have become successful producers distributors writers directors editors props masters publicists special effects technicians talent scouts stars and sometimes even moguls Some such as Richard

Attenborough and David Puttnam are well known names Others such as the screenwriter and editor Alma Reville also known as Mrs Alfred Hitchcock Constance Smith the lost star of British cinema or the producer Betty Box and her director sister Muriel are far less well known What they all have in common though is that they found their own pathways into the British film business overcoming barriers of nationality race class and gender to do so Counterpointing the essays on historical figures are interviews with contemporaries including the director Amma Asante the writer and filmmaker Julian Fellowes artist and director Isaac Julien novelist and screenwriter Hanif Kureishi and media entrepreneur Efe Cakarel founder of the online film platform MUBI who've come into today's industry adjusting to an era in which production and releasing models are changing and in which films are distributed digitally as well as theatrically

The Unknown 1930s Jeffrey Richards,2001-01-12 A group of film historians chart a map of 1930s British cinema They reassess the films stars genres and directors omitted from accounts of the decade and they evaluate its forgotten and recently discovered films The book includes assessments of the British shocker and the British musical popular 1930s genres and views of cinema and national identity

The British Cinema Source Book Elaine Burrows,1995 Archive sourcebook on British cinema

Shepperton Babylon Matthew Sweet,2005-01-01 If you thought the British film industry was a genteel conservative sort of business then think again This is a history of home grown movies that includes the scandals the suicides the immolations and the contract killings the product of thousands of conversations with veteran film makers Here you'll meet the actress who remembers the night in 1920 when her father cheated her out of a Hollywood contract the screenwriter who one night in 1924 watched his film idols snort cocaine from an illuminated glass dance floor on the bank of the Thames at Maidenhead the movie columnist of the 1930s whose sense of job satisfaction increased with every writ that landed on her editor's desk the model who escaped Soho's gangsters to become the queen of the nudie flicks the genteel Scottish comedienne who at the age of fifty five reinvented herself as a star of exploitation cinema
