This course is also available as self-paced virtual (e-learning) course IBM Integration Bus V10 Application Development I (ZM666G). This option does not require any travel.

IBM Integration Bus provides connectivity and universal data transformation in heterogeneous IT environments. It enables businesses of any size to eliminate point-to-point connections and batch processing, regardless of operating system, protocol, and data format.

This course teaches you how to use IBM Integration Bus to develop, deploy, and support message flow applications. These applications use various messaging topologies to transport messages between service requesters and service providers, and also allow the messages to be routed, transformed, and enriched during processing.

In this course, you learn how to construct applications to transport and transform data. The course also explores how to control the flow of data by using various processing nodes, and how to use databases and maps to transform and enrich data during processing. You also learn how to construct data models by using the Data Format Description Language (DFDL).

Responsive Mobile User Experience Using MQTT and IBM MessageSight

Whei-Jen Chen, Rahul Gupta, Valerie Lampkin, Dale M Robertson, Nagesh Subrahmanyam, IBM Redbooks, 2014-03-26. IBM MessageSight is an appliance based messaging server that is optimized to address the massive scale requirements of machine to machine (m2m) and mobile user scenarios. IBM MessageSight makes it easy to connect mobile customers to your existing messaging enterprise system, enabling a substantial number of remote clients to be concurrently connected. The MQTT protocol is a lightweight messaging protocol that uses publish/subscribe architecture to deliver messages over low bandwidth or unreliable networks. A publish/subscribe architecture works well for HTML5 native and hybrid mobile applications by removing the wait time of a request/response model. This creates a better, richer user experience. The MQTT protocol is simple, which results in a client library with a low footprint. MQTT was proposed as an Organization for the Advancement of Structured Information Standards (OASIS) standard. This book provides information about version 3.1 of the MQTT specification. This IBM Redbooks publication provides information about how IBM MessageSight, in combination with MQTT, facilitates the expansion of enterprise systems to include mobile devices and m2m communications. This book also outlines how to connect IBM MessageSight to an existing infrastructure, either through the use of IBM WebSphere MQ connectivity or the IBM Integration Bus, formerly known as WebSphere Message Broker. This book describes IBM MessageSight product features and facilities that are relevant to technical personnel such as system architects to help them make informed design decisions regarding the integration of the messaging appliance into their enterprise architecture. Using a scenario based approach, you learn how to develop a mobile application and how to integrate IBM MessageSight with other IBM products. This publication is intended to be of use to a wide ranging audience.
