

Iveco Trakker 2007+ Workshop Manual

Place a piece of oil-soaked wire on the journal of the crankshaft (1), cover to the longitudinal axis, until the lower shoulder (2) is fully and uniformly coated.

Lubricate both sides (1) of the UT50M oil and tighten them to torque weight to 140 Nm (104 ft-lb), then with 60° angle closing, following the diagram in Figure 12.

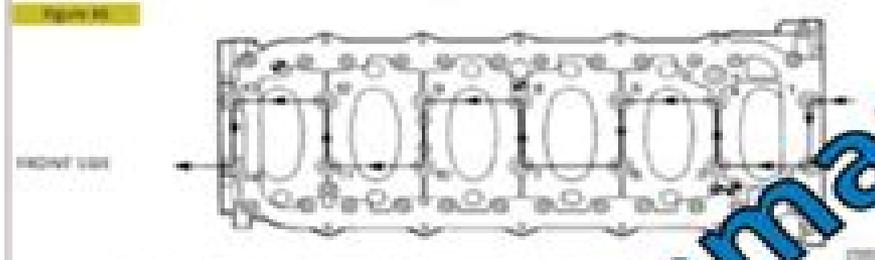

Diagram showing the tightening order of the main bearings for the lower crankshaft.

Remove the main bearings (1). The clearance between the journal and the bearing (2) should be checked by comparing the actual clearance with the maximum clearance (3) in the table below. If the clearance is greater than the maximum clearance, the bearing must be replaced. If the clearance is less than the maximum clearance, the bearing must be replaced. If the clearance is between the maximum clearance and the actual clearance, the bearing must be replaced.

Feel that is checked by using a feeler feel gauge (1) or micrometer (2) as shown in the Figure 14. If the clearance is higher than specified, replace the new shaft-hull bearing and repeat the check.

Apply the feeler gauge (1) to the main bearings (2) and adjust the feeler gauge to the specified clearance.

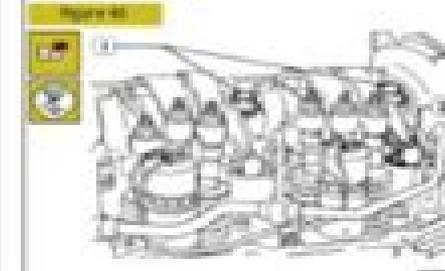

Apply extension W54005 (1) and pull out the wear plates (2).

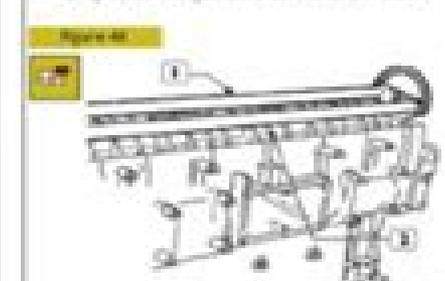

Align the crank (1) and take down the gear housing (2).

Remove power take-off control gear (1), if any. Remove screws (2) and dismount double gear (3). Remove bearing cover and dismount associated nut (4) dismount at point 14.

Remove the check spring (1) of the exhaust brake lever. Align the firing screws (2) of rotor and shaft.

Apply nut W54005 (1) to the rocker holder shaft (2) and remove the shaft (3) from the cylinder head.
