Demystifying Academic Writing in Higher Education: A Process View on Academic Textual Production Xinghua Liu, Rui Alexandre Alves, Angélique Aitken, Josef Schmied, 2025-10-30 Academic writing in this Research Topic refers to the type of writing demonstrating students' disciplinary knowledge of and proficiency in synthesizing, analyzing, and responding critically to new information. Hyland (2004) and Swales (1990) which may include those genres like course essays, project reports, research proposals, lab notes, journal articles, conference papers, theses, and dissertations. As the current workplaces have become increasingly specialized, higher education worldwide has been increasingly charged with the task of developing students' academic writing and correspondingly on students' parts, learning through writing has been necessary for them to succeed in higher education. To prepare university students for writing challenges during the past decades, numerous studies have been devoted to the study of linguistic and rhetorical resources in students' academic writing under such umbrella terms like style, reader awareness, authorial voice, writers' identity, stance, evaluation, textual structures, steps, and moves. Charles Hunston and Hinkel (2002). However, previous research on academic writing has been predominantly focused on the linguistic and rhetorical aspects, namely the final product of students' writing, while the nature and processes of composition, students' engagement, and individual differences, and the influence of contextual factors like emerging technology have been underexplored. Thus, the goal of this Research Topic is to bring a process-oriented and dynamic perspective to the study of textual production in academic contexts by both encouraging an expanded view of existing research paradigms and also welcoming novel approaches. Data can be collected by using corpus building, interviews, and questionnaires, but we would also welcome the use of experimental methods and a mixed-method approach for data collection. Meanwhile, previous research mainly studied university students who were learning English as a second or foreign language; hence, we also welcome research examining first language writers and students who are learning a second or foreign language other than English. We believe for the study of the complex phenomenon like academic writing, no single method or tool can suffice. Therefore, we strongly recommend a more creative perspective in data collection and analyzing and interpreting academic writing. Papers can present quantitative data analyses based on experimental design or qualitative data analyses stemmed from more ethnographic-oriented research. Systematic review studies are also welcome. We encourage contributions related but not restricted to the following topics:

- 1 Cognitive processes in academic texts: planning, composing, and revisions, and student writers individual differences 2 Metacognition and self regulation in academic texts planning composing and revisions and student writers individual differences 3 Motivation and self efficacy in academic texts planning composing and revisions and student writers individual differences 4 Linguistic and rhetorical choices identity construction and disciplinary knowledge construction 5 Student writers textual production peer feedback and interactions with discourse communities 6 Affordances and challenges of artificial intelligence AI in the process of academic textual production in higher education Survival Skills for the Principalship John Blaydes,2004-01-22 A great book designed to lighten the load of school administrators filled with practical easy to implement strategies short cuts time savers and sample forms and letters A valuable reference guide for effective school leadership Fran Madison Cohee NAESP California State Representative Principal White Oak Elementary CA If you are looking for insight rejuvenation and thoughtful practical strategies for success in your role as a school leader look no further John Blaydes helps us remember why we became educators why we want to continue and why inspirational leadership is essential to schools Jane Foley Vice President National Educator Awards Milken Family Foundation Santa Monica CA Clearly Blaydes planned well as he linked the themes from one chapter to the next It will no doubt be a valued tool for school administrators Daniel P Gaffney Principal Howard R Yocum Elementary School NJ Discover the new 3 Rs of school leadership resiliency renewal and reflection Today s principals face unique challenges demands of time knowledge and organization that take their toll on even the most flexible leader This compilation of resources offers practical ready to use solutions to the issues and dilemmas principals face every day You can tap into these valuable resources for years to come as a long term support that will enable you to use your time and energy more effectively reduce personal stress spark new ideas and programs and enhance your effectiveness as an inspirational school leader Inside you ll find Highly practical strategies for strengthening your school s instructional program Tips ideas and techniques for creating a climate of excellence in your school Ways to lighten up laugh more and bring humor to your school community Proven strategies used by award winning principals to maintain balance in their lives Methods for managing the impact of stress on your performance and renew your energy for the important work of the principalship Learn to work smarter and discover the time to build a welcoming and purposeful learning environment for yourself your staff and ultimately your students Shining Star Level C Annotated Teacher's Edition Anna Uhl Chamot,Pamela Hartmann,Jann Huizenga,2003-03 Four level English language learning program Provides middle and high school newcomers with the skills and strategies to improve proficiency in reading writing and grammar Effective Universal Instruction Kimberly Gibbons,Sarah Brown,Bradley C.
