4 Point Speaking for Academic Purposes Robyn Brinks Lockwood, Keith S. Folse, 2017-03-17 The 4 Point series is designed for English language learners whose primary goal is to succeed in an academic setting Academic English learners need skills based books that focus on reading listening and speaking as well as the two primary language bases of vocabulary and grammar The ultimate goal is to help your students improve these skills and earn a 4.0 GPA The Introduction to English for Academic Purposes EAP level is designed for students in academic programs who need a more general introduction to authentic academic content The discrete skills volumes are designed for programs and courses that want to more intensively focus on key strategies and authentic academic content in one skill area Each 4 Point volume covers academic skills while providing reinforcement and systematic recycling of key vocabulary issues and further exposure to grammar issues. These volumes focus very heavily on vocabulary because language learners know that they are way behind their native speaker counterparts when it comes to vocabulary. Each book highlights key vocabulary items including individual words, compound words, phrasal verbs, short phrases, idioms, metaphors, collocations, and longer set lexical phrases.

These activities are presented within the context of one field of academic study: Architecture, Marketing, Earth Science, U.S. History, Chemistry, and Fine Arts, per unit. Unique to this speaking text are six videos showing common student interactions. Access to the videos is free. Each unit includes three academic speaking strategies, including one specific to making presentations and tasks that involve participating in group discussions, interacting with native speakers, and making a presentation. The goal is to provide students with a variety of strategies and tools to master academic situations in which they need to participate.

Teaching English to Second Language Learners in Academic Contexts Jonathan M. Newton, Dana R. Ferris, Christine C.M. Goh, William Grabe, Fredricka L. Stoller, Larry Vandergrift, 2018-02-07. Pedagogically focused chapters apply this information to principles for EAP curriculum design and to instructional activities and tasks adaptable in a wide range of language learning contexts. Options for assessment and the role of digital technologies are considered for each skill, and essential information on integrated skill instruction is provided. Moving from theory to practice, this teacher-friendly text is an essential resource for courses in TESOL programs, for in-service teacher training seminars, and for practicing EAP teachers who want to upgrade their teaching abilities and knowledge bases.

qualitative ones were coded based on semantic affinity for analysis. The study revealed that listening skills such as comprehending colloquial and idiomatic expressions, understanding guests' multifarious English accents, recognizing meaning shift because of change in intonation and stress are worthwhile for THMS prospective careers in tourism and hospitality sector. Effective communication with guests on the phone, clear and direct speech interpretation without meaning distortion and appropriate responses to guests' requests and complaints were found to be equally important speaking skills. Similarly, eye contact, facial expressions, gesture, tone and pitch volume were found to be the salient non-verbal communication behaviors that should comply with the communicative contexts during oral interactions. The research indicated that most THMS lacked spoken production skills, spoken interaction skills and nonverbal communication skills. It also showed that the communicative events that arise during oral communication in occupational and academic contexts require THMS to have good command of oral proficiency. Therefore, it can be concluded that THMS current oral proficiency may adversely affect their academic performance and employability skills. Based on the findings, the researcher recommends oral communication trainings that can enhance THMS academic involvements and employability skills and the inclusion of oral communication courses in THM curriculum for prospective use.
