Discovering Statistics Using IBM SPSS Statistics Andy Field, 2013-02-20 Lecturers/instructors request a free digital inspection copy here. With a little help from his weird band of characters, the Fourth Edition of the award-winning book continues with its unique blend of humour and collection of bizarre examples to bring statistics from first principles to advanced concepts well and truly to life using IBM SPSS Statistics. Lecturers with WebAssign can manage and monitor your students' progress quickly and easily online or give them more opportunities to practise. Ideal for short courses, choose to use WebAssign alongside the Fourth Edition of Andy Field's textbook to quickly set up courses and schedule assignments using the 2159 questions available and track individual performance so you can spot in an instant where more instruction or practice is needed. If not using for formal assessment, WebAssign still lets you set questions for your students to practise over and over again. They get instant feedback and also links to the relevant chapter or section in the integral ebook to help them work out the correct solution. For more information on how to integrate WebAssign into a forthcoming course or to arrange a class test, please contact your local SAGE representative for more details. Students please note access to WebAssign is dependent not only on the purchase of a student access code (ISBN 9781446273043) but also a username, institution code, and password supplied by your course leader/instructor. University of Sussex 2015 2016      Research Methods for Forensic Psychologists Sarah Brown, Emma Sleath, 2015-06-26
Research Methods for Forensic Psychologists is an accessible and comprehensive textbook that introduces students to the research process in forensic psychology. Adopting a problem-based learning approach, this book offers a how-to guide to the whole research process and empowers readers to develop their own programme of research from initial vague ideas to developing a research question to carrying out a methodologically rigorous research project to disseminating the findings. The text is centred on five case studies sufficiently different in nature to address the most common research methodologies. Each case study is linked with a specific research question that will be used to illustrate the research process throughout the rest of the book. Topics covered in the book include Design and Planning including a literature search, a discussion of different sorts of data, practical and feasibility issues, research ethics, and developing a research proposal. Conducting research including the submission of ethics proposals and responding to feedback, collecting data and dealing with the problems and challenges of analysing data, Dissemination of findings, an overview of the different types of papers with examples listed, and other methods of disseminating findings discussed such as conference presentations and the use of social media. Throughout, issues of common difficulty or confusion are highlighted and activities are provided for readers to consider and apply the information discussed further. Additional reading sections and summaries are also provided at the end of each chapter. This book is essential reading for advanced students in Forensic Psychology as well as trainees and practitioners within relevant forensic psychology organisations.
