

A photograph of a mechanical assembly consisting of approximately 12 grey gears of various sizes mounted on a white rectangular board. The gears are arranged in a somewhat circular pattern, with some larger gears in the center and smaller ones towards the edges. A black motor or actuator is visible at the bottom right, connected to one of the gears. A rainbow-colored ribbon is attached to the right side of the board. The entire assembly is placed on a light-colored, textured surface.
