

ELEMENTS OF A GRID

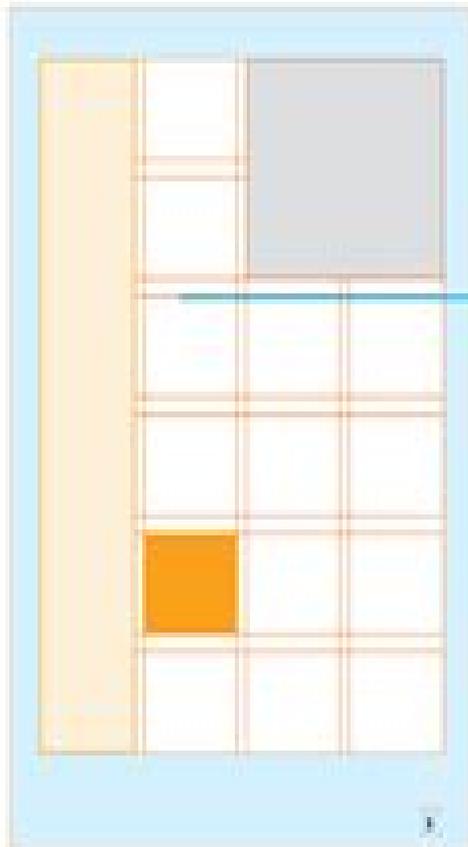

1. Know the Components

The main components of a grid are margins, columns, columns, leading, tracking, gutter lines, and baselines. Starting with a page that is four pages wide and four pages high, let's see how you might use these elements to create a layout.

MARGINS are vertical columns that define the space between the text and the edges of the page. The width and number of margins on a page or across the entire spread are determined by the content.

MODULES are individual elements, typically, repeated across a grid. Consistent modules can create interest and ease of reading.
