

Standards for Multicultural Assessment

Fourth Revision, 2012

The Association for Assessment in Counseling and Education (AACE) is an organization of counselors, educators, and other professionals that advances the counseling profession by providing leadership, training, and research in the creation, development, production, and use of assessment and diagnostic techniques. The mission and vision of AACE drives the continuing effort to create awareness of the importance of assessment and diagnostic techniques for an increasingly diverse population, to promote better training in the uses and development of assessments and to advocate for social justice concerns in counseling and educational assessment.

In 1992, the Committee on Diversity in Assessment under the direction of the Association for Assessment in Counseling (now AACE) Executive Council created the first set of standards addressing cultural diversity and the impact on assessment in counseling and education. In 2003, the Executive Council of the Association for Assessment in Counseling (AAC) appointed a committee to expand and update the original set of standards.

During the past decade, the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP) emphasized the centrality of diversity in our profession by including language regarding diversity and advocacy throughout every aspect of the 2009 CACREP Standards. The Council on Rehabilitation Education (CORE) has also acknowledged in its 2010 Standards the importance of cultural and individual diversity and has incorporated cultural competence into standards for rehabilitation counseling programs.

This revision of the Multicultural Assessment Standards addresses more specifically the role of social advocacy in assessment. Further, they speak to the importance of effectively selecting, administering, and interpreting assessments and diagnostic techniques while providing
