GRAMMAR

THE VERB

The verb is the most important word in a sentence. It tells us what is happening and who is doing it. Verbs can be used in many different ways, and it is important to know the rules for using them correctly.

Verb forms

Verbs can be used in different forms, depending on the tense and voice of the sentence. The main forms are the infinitive, the present participle, the past participle, and the past tense.

Verb tenses

Verbs are used to show the time of an action. The main tenses are the present, the past, and the future. Each tense has different forms, and it is important to know which form to use in each case.

Verb agreement

Verbs must agree with the subject of the sentence. This means that the verb must be in the same person and number as the subject. For example, 'He walks' is correct, but 'He walk' is not.

SENTENCES

A sentence is a group of words that expresses a complete thought. Sentences can be used in many different ways, and it is important to know the rules for using them correctly.

Types of sentence

Sentences can be classified into different types, depending on their structure and purpose. The main types are simple, compound, and complex sentences.

Sentence structure

The structure of a sentence is the order of the words in the sentence. The most common structure is the subject-verb-object structure.

Sentence punctuation

Punctuation is used to mark the end of a sentence and to show the structure of the sentence. The main punctuation marks are the period, the comma, and the semicolon.

THE NOUN

The noun is a word that names a person, place, thing, or idea. Nouns can be used in many different ways, and it is important to know the rules for using them correctly.

Types of noun

Nouns can be classified into different types, depending on their meaning and use. The main types are proper nouns, common nouns, and abstract nouns.

Noun agreement

Nouns must agree with the verb in the sentence. This means that the noun must be in the same person and number as the verb.

THE ADJECTIVE

The adjective is a word that describes a noun. Adjectives can be used in many different ways, and it is important to know the rules for using them correctly.

Types of adjective

Adjectives can be classified into different types, depending on their meaning and use. The main types are descriptive adjectives and demonstrative adjectives.

Adjective agreement

Adjectives must agree with the noun they describe. This means that the adjective must be in the same gender and number as the noun.

THE ADVERB

The adverb is a word that describes a verb, an adjective, or another adverb. Adverbs can be used in many different ways, and it is important to know the rules for using them correctly.

Types of adverb

Adverbs can be classified into different types, depending on their meaning and use. The main types are adverbs of time, place, and manner.

Adverb agreement

Adverbs do not agree with any other word in the sentence.

THE PREPOSITION

The preposition is a word that shows the relationship between a noun and another word in the sentence. Prepositions can be used in many different ways, and it is important to know the rules for using them correctly.

Types of preposition

Prepositions can be classified into different types, depending on their meaning and use. The main types are prepositions of time, place, and direction.

Preposition agreement

Prepositions do not agree with any other word in the sentence.

CONJUNCTIONS & CORRELATIVE PARTICLES

Conjunctions and correlative particles are words that connect two clauses or phrases in a sentence. They are used to show the relationship between the two parts of the sentence.

Types of conjunction

Conjunctions can be classified into different types, depending on their meaning and use. The main types are coordinating conjunctions and subordinating conjunctions.

Correlative particles

Correlative particles are used in pairs to connect two clauses or phrases. The most common pairs are 'both...and', 'either...or', and 'neither...nor'.

SENTENCE FLUENCY & PARSING

Sentence fluency and parsing are important skills for writing and understanding sentences. Fluency is the ability to write sentences that are clear and easy to understand. Parsing is the ability to understand the structure of a sentence.

Improving sentence fluency

There are several ways to improve sentence fluency, including using a variety of sentence structures and using descriptive words.

Parsing a sentence

To parse a sentence, you need to identify the subject, the verb, and the object of the sentence. You also need to identify any prepositions and conjunctions used in the sentence.
