

3 Latex Compounding Ingredients

The different compounding ingredients used in rubber latex can be grouped into curing agents, sulfur, accelerators, antioxidants, fillers, pigments, stabilisers, thickening and wetting agents, and other ingredients such as: heat sensitisers, plasticisers, viscosity modifiers, and so on.

3.1 Compounding Ingredients

3.1.1 Curing Agent: Sulfur

Sulfur is the universal vulcanising agent for natural rubber and also for synthetic rubbers, which contain olefinic unsaturation in the polymer chain, whether these polymers are in latex form or in the form of dry rubber. Sulfur is the main vulcanising agent for natural rubber, synthetic polyisoprene, styrene-butadiene rubber, acrylonitrile-butadiene rubber, polybutadiene rubber, and so on. The crosslinks formed during sulfur vulcanisation of olefinically unsaturated rubber are of three types: monosulfidic, disulfidic and polysulfidic. The relative properties of above crosslinks have an implication in the mechanical and ageing behaviour of vulcanisates. Monosulfidic and disulfidic crosslinks give better ageing resistance compared to polysulfidic linkage, whereas the initial tensile properties are better for a rubber vulcanisates with polysulfidic linkage. When the amount of sulfur used is high, a higher percentage of polysulfidic linkage is formed.

Sulfur to be used for latex compound should be of good quality and easily dispersed in water. Colloidal sulfur is preferred for latex compounds, which is obtained by a reaction between hydrogen sulfide and sulfur dioxide in an aqueous medium [1].

Thiurams, for example, tetramethylthiuram disulfide (TMTD) with disulfidic linkage can be used as a vulcanising agent in olefinically unsaturated rubber in the absence of elemental sulfur (sulfurless curing). This type of curing is superior to conventional curing for heat resistance, oxidative aging resistance, and so on.

Butyl xanthogen disulfide (at 4 phr) in presence of zinc oxide can be used for vulcanising rubber latex without elemental sulfur. Vulcanisate properties of this system are inferior to those obtained using the thiuram system.
