

WHAT TO DO: Inside this booklet are some questions to see what attitudes and interests you have. There are no "right" and "wrong" answers because everyone has the right to his own views. To be able to get the best advice from your results, you will want to answer them exactly and truly.

If a separate "Answer Sheet" has not been given to you, turn this booklet over and tear off the Answer Sheet on the back page.

Write your name and all other information asked for on the top line of the Answer Sheet.

First you should answer the four sample questions below so that you can see whether you need to ask anything before starting. Although you are to read the questions in this booklet, you must record your answer on the answer sheet (alongside the same number as in the booklet).

There are three possible answers to each question. Read the following examples and mark your answers at the top of your answer sheet where it says "Examples." Fill in the left-hand box if your answer choice is the "a" answer, in the middle box if your answer choice is the "b" answer, and in the right-hand box if you choose the "c" answer.

EXAMPLES:

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. I like to watch team games.
a. yes, b. occasionally, c. no 2. I prefer people who:
a. are reserved,
b. (are) in between,
c. make friends quickly. | 3. Money cannot bring happiness.
a. yes (true), b. in between, c. no (false) 4. Woman is to child as cat is to:
a. kitten, b. dog, c. boy |
|--|---|

In the last example there is a right answer—kitten. But there are very few such reasoning items.

Ask now if anything is not clear. The examiner will tell you in a moment to turn the page and start.

When you answer, keep these four points in mind:

1. You are asked not to spend time pondering. Give the first, natural answer as it comes to you. Of course, the questions are too short to give you all the particulars you would sometimes like to have. For instance, the above question asks you about "team games" and you might be fonder of football than basketball. But you are to reply "for the average game," or to strike an average in situations of the kind stated. Give the best answer you can at a rate not slower than five or six a minute. You should finish in a little more than half an hour.
2. Try not to fall back on the middle, "ascertain" answers except when the answer at either end is really impossible for you—perhaps once every four or five questions.
3. Be sure not to skip anything, but answer every question, somehow. Some may not apply to you very well, but give your best guess. Some may seem personal; but remember that the answer sheets are kept confidential and cannot be scored without a special stencil key. Answers to particular questions are not inspected.
4. Answer as honestly as possible what's true of you. Do not merely mark what seems "the right thing to say" to impress the examiner.

DO NOT TURN PAGE UNTIL TOLD TO DO SO

The WordPress software can be downloaded by anyone from WordPress.org and can be installed as part of a hosting package from a web hosting provider. The WordPress platform consists of three essential elements: its core plus a long list of themes and plugins that allow you to customize the appearance and functionality in a virtually endless way. Depending on the kind of CMS that needs to be built to support blogs, e-commerce, digital portfolios, themes, and websites with minimal customization can be modified to suit even more specific needs built with various web design and development plugins. Plugins are modified to add a variety of functionality to a WordPress site and then used to manage content management systems. People often install a combination of plugins from the WordPress Plugin Directory to create customized functionality for managing a wide range of content. Along with functions for creating and managing content, plugins can be added for all sorts of project management. WordPress themes and plugins allow users ranging from non-technical large enterprises to assemble a set of content management tools that are specifically designed to meet their needs. Versatile, flexible, and low-cost WordPress has all the tools a webmaster or novice user needs for creating and managing content flexibly anywhere in the world. The difference between WordPress.com and WordPress.org arises from the differences between hosted and self-hosted web content; choosing between them largely depends on the level of control a user wants over the design and management of a site.
