The Architecture of Computer Hardware and Systems Software Irv Englander, 2003. Fundamental principles that will keep you on the cutting edge. Most computer architecture books are just too technical and complex. Focusing on specific technology they often bypass the basics and are outdated as quickly as technology advances. Now Irv Englander's gentle but thorough introduction to computer architecture and systems software provides just the right amount of technical detail you'll need to make successful decisions in your future career. The text covers all the basics in an accessible, easy-to-understand way. Organized in a form that parallels an actual computer system, entire sections are devoted to principles of data hardware and software with computer interconnection, clustering and networking integrated into the material to emphasize the importance of computer and system structure. Assuming only basic knowledge, these sections build up to an in-depth understanding of each topic and how they interrelate to make up a computer system. With this Third Edition's outstanding features, you'll be able to build a solid foundation for success on the job. All chapters have been thoroughly updated to reflect current technology. Revised with even clearer discussions of virtual storage, the operation of memory and modern CPU architectures. Programming examples are written in a C/Java-like pseudocode. Emphasizes the computer aspects of clustering and networking rather than the data communication aspects. Provide an understanding of underlying, non-changing basics of computers so that you can make knowledgeable decisions about systems. Introduce new technological concepts without overwhelming you with too much detail. Examples cover a broad spectrum of hardware and software systems from personal computers to mainframes. Integrates discussions of hardware and software throughout and explores the symbiosis between them. Microcomputers and Microprocessors, 1979. Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2002-04. Computer Books and Serials in Print, 1985. Resources in Education, 1983-04. Journal of Energy Resources Technology, 1984.
