Arrovian Aggregation Models:

Arrovian Aggregation Models Fuad T. Aleskerov, 2013-06-29 Aggregation of individual opinions into a social decision is a problem widely observed in everyday life For centuries people tried to invent the best aggregation rule In 1951 young American scientist and future Nobel Prize winner Kenneth Arrow formulated the problem in an axiomatic way i e he specified a set of axioms which every reasonable aggregation rule has to satisfy and obtained that these axioms are inconsistent This result often called Arrow s Paradox or General Impossibility Theorem had become a cornerstone of social choice theory The main condition used by Arrow was his famous Independence of Irrelevant Alternatives This very condition pre defines the local treatment of the alternatives or pairs of alternatives or sets of alternatives etc in aggregation procedures Remaining within the framework of the axiomatic approach and based on the consideration of local rules Arrovian Aggregation Models investigates three formulations of the aggregation problem according to the form in which the individual opinions about the alternatives are defined as well as to the form of desired social decision In other words we study three aggregation models What is common between them is that in all models some analogue of the Independence of Irrelevant Alternatives condition is used which is why we call these models Arrovian aggregation models Chapter 1 presents a general description of the problem of axiomatic synthesis of local rules and introduces problem formulations for various versions of formalization of individual opinions and collective decision Chapter 2 formalizes precisely the notion of rationality of individual opinions and social decision Chapter 3 deals with the aggregation model for the case of individual opinions and social decisions formalized as binary relations Chapter 4 deals with Functional Aggregation Rules which transform into a social choice function individual opinions defined as choice functions Chapter 5 considers another model Social Choice Correspondences when the individual opinions are formalized as binary relations and the collective decision is looked for as a choice function Several new classes of rules are introduced and analyzed
