

The New Frontier

As we grow accustomed to the long-term problems being brought to us by the rapidly aging baby-boom generation, we must also be aware of the new problems that will be brought to us by the new frontier.

The first frontier is the new technology.

Problem	Causes	Consequences
Unemployment	Automation has made jobs obsolete and has created new jobs that require skills that many workers do not have.	Unemployment has increased, especially among young people and those with low skills.
Income Inequality	Automation has made jobs obsolete and has created new jobs that require skills that many workers do not have.	Income inequality has increased, especially among young people and those with low skills.
Skills Gap	Automation has made jobs obsolete and has created new jobs that require skills that many workers do not have.	There is a growing gap between the skills of the workforce and the skills required for the new jobs.

The second frontier is the new environment.

Problem	Causes	Consequences
Climate Change	Human activities, such as burning fossil fuels, are releasing large amounts of greenhouse gases into the atmosphere.	Global temperatures are rising, leading to more extreme weather events, sea level rise, and other impacts.
Water Scarcity	Overuse of water resources and pollution are reducing the availability of clean water.	Water scarcity is becoming a major problem in many parts of the world, leading to health problems and economic losses.
