

READING ACTIVITY #2

1.- Read the story about Laura discovering a new book store, underline or paint in red all of the narrative past tenses you find (simple past, past continuous, past perfect and past perfect continuous).

"The Forgotten Letter"

Laura had always loved exploring old bookstores. One rainy afternoon, she was walking down a narrow street when she noticed a small, dusty bookstore she had never seen before. She decided to go inside. As she was browsing through the shelves, she came across an old, leather-bound book that looked like it hadn't been touched in years. Intrigued, she opened the book and found a letter tucked inside the pages.

The letter was addressed to someone named Amelia and dated 1943. Laura realized that the letter had been forgotten for decades. She read the letter and discovered that it was from a soldier who had been stationed overseas during World War II. He wrote about his experiences in the war and how much he missed Amelia. Laura couldn't help but feel emotional as she read his words.

She spent hours in the bookstore, reading the soldier's heartfelt letters, oblivious to the time passing. It was getting dark outside when she finally looked up. She hadn't realized how long she had been there. As she was about to leave, she noticed the bookstore owner, an elderly man who had been watching her with a gentle smile.

"I see you found the letters," he said. "I've been waiting for someone to find them. My grandfather wrote those to my grandmother during the war. They were lost for years, and I had nearly given up hope of finding them."

Laura listened, astonished. The letters had not only told the story of the soldier's past but also connected her to a piece of history she had never known. As she left the store, she felt a sense of gratitude for having stumbled upon something so precious. She knew she had been part of something bigger than just finding an old book—she had rediscovered a love story that had been forgotten but never truly lost.

2.- Answer the following questions according to the information you read.

- a) Why did Laura go into the bookstore?
- b) What did Laura find inside the book?
- c) How did the letters affect Laura emotionally?
- d) What was the significance of the letters to the bookstore owner?
- e) How did Laura's discovery connect her to the past?
