Mediation in state courts Flávia Maria Aires Freire Allemão, 2021-10-29 The large caseloads to be tried in the courts and the dissatisfaction of jurisdictions with the judgments are the main reasons for the application of mediation in the courts The culture of litigation and the Civil Law system applied in Brazil are driving factors in order to arise more lawsuits given to a greater possibility of different decisions for similar situations in contrast to the Common Law applied in almost all of the United States where the citizen is more cautious when filing lawsuits because it is more difficult to reverse a precedent Given the need to change this situation a movement began in Brazil to encourage agreements between the parties in the process with the National Council of Justice having issued the Resolution No 125 2010 instituting mediation and later the provision of such institute by the new Code of Civil Procedure of 2015 The previous Code of Civil Procedure from 1973 already regulated conciliation although it does not have the same effectiveness as mediation in the resolution of conflicts in a more definitive way especially in demands whose conflict parties have a continued relationship among themselves such as those involving Family Law for example Indeed among the different types of alternative methods of conflict resolution mediation is within the best results So it is of fundamental importance the comparative study of the mediation in Brazil and the United States analyzing the participants of mediation the types of mediation how it is applied in practice in each country the advantages and disadvantages and thinking how to improve the institute of mediation in both countries considering the differences and similarities between them

Intelligent Planning Qiang Yang,2012-12-06 The central fact is that we are planning agents M Bratman Intentions Plans and Practical Reasoning 1987 p 2 Recent arguments to the contrary notwithstanding it seems to be the case that people the best exemplars of general intelligence that we have to date do a lot of planning It is therefore not surprising that modeling the planning process has always been a central part of the Artificial Intelligence enterprise Reasonable behavior in complex environments requires the ability to consider what actions one should take in order to achieve some of what one wants and that in a nutshell is what AI planning systems attempt to do Indeed the basic description of a plan generation algorithm has remained constant for nearly three decades given a description of an initial state I a goal state G and a set of action types find a sequence S of instantiated actions such that when S is executed instate I G is guaranteed as a result Working out the details of this class of algorithms and making the elaborations necessary for them to be effective in real environments have proven to be bigger tasks than one might have imagined
