Control and Game-Theoretic Models of the Environment Jerzy Filar, Carlo Carraro, 2012-12-06 This book collects some recent works on the application of dynamic game and control theory to the analysis of environmental problems This collection of papers is not the outcome of a conference or of a workshop It is rather the result of a careful screening from among a number of contributions that we have solicited across the world In particular we have been able to attract the work of some of the most prominent scholars in the field of dynamic analyses of the environment Engineers mathematicians and economists provide their views and analytical tools to better interpret the interactions between economic and environmental phenomena thus achieving through this interdisciplinary effort new and interesting results The goal of the book is more normative than descriptive All papers include careful modelling of the dynamics of the main variables involved in the game between nature and economic agents and among economic agents themselves as well described in Vrieze's introductory chapter Furthermore all papers use this careful modelling framework to provide policy prescriptions to the public agencies authorized to regulate emission dynamics Several diverse problems are addressed from global issues such as the greenhouse effect or deforestation to international ones such as the management of fisheries to local ones for example the control of effluent discharges Moreover pollution problems are not the only concern of this book

Mathematical Principles of the Internet, Two Volume Set Nirdosh Bhatnagar, 2019-03-18 This two volume set on Mathematical Principles of the Internet provides a comprehensive overview of the mathematical principles of Internet engineering The books do not aim to provide all of the mathematical foundations upon which the Internet is based Instead these cover only a partial panorama and the key principles Volume 1 explores Internet engineering while the supporting mathematics is covered in Volume 2 The chapters on mathematics complement those on the engineering episodes and an effort has been made to make this work succinct yet self contained Elements of information theory algebraic coding theory cryptography Internet traffic dynamics and control of Internet congestion and queueing theory are discussed In addition stochastic networks graph theoretic algorithms application of game theory to the Internet Internet economics data mining and knowledge discovery and quantum computation communication and cryptography are also discussed In order to study the structure and function of the Internet only a basic knowledge of number theory abstract algebra matrices and determinants graph theory geometry analysis optimization theory probability theory and stochastic processes is required These mathematical disciplines are defined and developed in the books to the extent that is needed to develop and justify their application to Internet engineering

Handbook of Mathematical Models and Algorithms in Computer Vision and Imaging Ke Chen, Carola-Bibiane Schönlieb, Xue-Cheng Tai, Laurent Younes, 2023-02-24 This handbook gathers together the state of the art on mathematical models and algorithms for imaging and vision Its emphasis lies on rigorous mathematical methods which represent the optimal solutions to a class of imaging and vision problems and on effective algorithms which are necessary for the methods to be translated to practical use in various applications Viewing discrete images as data sampled from functional surfaces enables the use of advanced tools from calculus functions and calculus of variations and nonlinear optimization and provides the basis of high resolution imaging through geometry and variational models Besides optimization naturally connects traditional model driven approaches to the emerging data driven approaches of machine and deep learning No other framework can provide comparable accuracy and precision to imaging and vision Written by leading researchers in imaging and vision the chapters in this handbook all start with gentle introductions which make this work accessible to graduate students For newcomers to the field the book provides a comprehensive and fast track introduction to the content to save time and get on with tackling new and emerging challenges For researchers exposure to the state of the art of research works leads to an overall view of the entire field so as to guide new research directions and avoid pitfalls in moving the field forward and looking into the next decades of imaging and information services This work can greatly benefit graduate students researchers and practitioners in imaging and vision applied mathematicians medical imagers engineers and computer scientists

Many-Criteria Optimization and Decision Analysis Dimo Brockhoff, Michael Emmerich, Boris Naujoks, Robin Purshouse, 2023-07-28 This book presents the state of the art current challenges and future perspectives for the field of many criteria optimization and decision analysis The field recognizes that real life problems often involve trying to balance a multiplicity of considerations simultaneously such as performance cost risk sustainability and quality The field develops theory methods and tools that can support decision makers in finding appropriate solutions when faced with many typically more than three such criteria at the same time The book consists of two parts key research topics and emerging topics Part I begins with a general introduction to many criteria optimization perspectives from research leaders in real world problems and a contemporary survey of the attributes of problems of this kind This part continues with chapters on fundamental aspects of many criteria optimization namely on order relations quality measures benchmarking visualization and theoretical considerations Part II offers more specialized chapters on correlated objectives heterogeneous objectives Bayesian optimization and game theory Written by leading experts across the field of many criteria optimization this book will be an essential resource for researchers in the fields of evolutionary computing operations research multiobjective optimization and decision science

An Introduction to Applicable Game Theory Robert Gibbons, 1996 This paper offers an introduction to game theory for applied economists I try to give simple definitions and intuitive examples of the basic kinds of games and their solution concepts There are four kinds of games static or dynamic and complete or incomplete information Complete information means there is no private information The corresponding solution concepts are Nash equilibrium in static games of complete information backwards induction or subgame perfect Nash equilibrium in dynamic games of complete information Bayesian Nash equilibrium in static games with incomplete information and perfect Bayesian or sequential equilibrium in dynamic games with incomplete information The main theme of the paper is that these solution concepts are closely linked As we consider progressively richer games we progressively strengthen the solution concept to rule out implausible equilibria in the richer games that would survive if we applied solution concepts available for simpler games In each case the stronger solution concept differs from the weaker concept only for the richer games not for the simpler games

Stranded Assets Ben Caldecott, 2019-12-16 The topic of stranded assets created by environment related risk factors has risen up the agenda dramatically influencing many pressing topics in relation to global environmental change For example how best to manage the exposure of investments to environment related risks so that financial institutions can avoid stranded assets the financial stability implications of stranded assets and what this means for macroprudential regulation microprudential regulation and financial conduct reducing the negative consequences of stranded assets by finding ways to address unemployment lost profits and reduced tax income internalising the risk of stranded assets in corporate strategy and decision making particularly in carbon intensive sectors susceptible to the effects of societal action on climate change underpinning arguments by civil society campaigns attempting to secure rapid decarbonisation to reduce the scale of anthropogenic climate change and designing decarbonisation plans developed by governments as well as companies and investors Taken as a whole this book provides some of the latest thinking on how stranded assets are relevant to investor strategy and decision making as well as those seeking to understand and influence financial institutions This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Sustainable Finance and Investment

Policy, Management and Finance of Public-Private Partnerships Akintola Akintoye, Matthias Beck, 2009-01-26 This book examines some of the key policy financial and managerial aspects of public private partnerships within the context of the global spread of this form of procurement The chapters investigate political and institutional issues surrounding PPPs together with the financial and managerial strategies employed by the private sector Adopting an interdisciplinary perspective the book highlights the often politically sensitive nature of these projects and identifies a need for the private sector to investigate a broad set of parameters which relate to the particular political economy of individual partnerships Policy Finance innovation in partnership based procurement government and business interaction institutional and organisational approaches to facilitating partnership project and corporate financing risk and value management market analysis modelling and forecasting capital structure decisions and management investment theory and practice pricing and cost evaluation statutory regulations and their financial implications option pricing financial monitoring syndicate funding new roles for the financial and insurance sectors institutional and multilateral funding payment mechanisms concession period determination risk analysis and management whole life value methodology cost comparators and best value team building teamwork and skill development Contributions from Australia Europe the Far East South Africa and the United
