Getting Yes Negotiating Agreement Without:

Getting to Yes Roger Fisher, William Ury, 1981 First published in 1981 this business classic offers five steps that can be used in business school relationships and life in general to help resolve difficult situations The goal is a win win for both sides based on mutual advantage and basic principles To achieve that we need to get past our emotions and back off from polarized positions If both sides in the negotiation can find a way to see the other person's perspective conflicts can be resolved without either side feeling something had to be given up Roger Fisher and William Ury provide a variety of case studies and situations that illustrate how both sides can win if we realize It's not personal Getting to Yes Roger Fisher, William Ury, Bruce Patton, 1983 One of the key business texts of the modern era Getting to Yes has helped millions of people learn a better way to negotiate Based on the work of the Harvard Negotiation Project a group that deals with all levels of negotiation and conflict resolution it offers readers a straightforward universally applicable method for reaching mutually satisfying agreements at home in business and with people in any situation Getting to Yes Roger Fisher, 2011 Getting to Yes Roger Fisher, William L. Ury, Bruce Patton, 2011-05-03 The key text on problem solving negotiation updated and revised Getting to Yes has helped millions of people learn a better way to negotiate One of the primary business texts of the modern era it is based on the work of the Harvard Negotiation Project a group that deals with all levels of negotiation and conflict resolution Getting to Yes offers a proven step by step strategy for coming to mutually acceptable agreements in every sort of conflict Thoroughly updated and revised it offers readers a straight forward universally applicable method for negotiating personal and professional disputes without getting angry or getting taken Summary Guide Getting to Yes: Negotiating Agreement Without Giving in Book by Roger Fisher, William L. Ury & Bruce Patton Cityprint, 2019-03-09 NOTE This is a summary guide and is meant as a companion to not a replacement for the original book Please follow this link to purchase a copy of the original book <https://amzn.to/2F0VOf9> THE BOOK Getting to Yes is a guide to help you resolve any conflict without giving in ABOUT THE AUTHOR Roger Fisher 1922-2012 was an American professor at Harvard Law School With his wife, he founded the Harvard Negotiation Project William Ury is an anthropologist who works around the world Bruce Patton is a Harvard professor and author of the book Getting to Yes He has helped millions of people in their negotiations INTRODUCTION Think about it imagine but just a few decades ago decisions were made by a few people usually made by one person whoever was in charge Back then the world was a hierarchy that was controlled by the few The world has changed and now decisions are made by many people and often by a committee or a group of people This is a good thing because it means that more people have a say in the decision making process and that's a good thing Parents can encourage their children to participate in family decisions and that's a good thing In the past, parents often made decisions for their children and that's not always the best thing to do Don't do this unless it's because the child can't do it on their own or find a better way to do it than the way the parent would do it haggling over prices with suppliers or negotiating international arms embargoes that men would not negotiate are mutually destructive. Bringing your left hand to help your right hand will do good things for you and your partner. The outcomes of all negotiations are not every day of our lives. Learning to negotiate will be a very valuable skill. SUMMARY - Getting To Yes: Negotiating Agreement Without Giving In By Roger Fisher And William Ury Shortcut Edition, 2021-05-29 Our summary is short, simple, and pragmatic. It allows you to have the essential ideas of a big book in less than 30 minutes. By reading this summary, you will learn how to negotiate in all circumstances and in all serenity. You will also learn that it is possible to protect your relationships while making your demands heard. That several negotiation techniques and tactics are useful to re-know that a few key phrases are enough to communicate your interests clearly. That a negotiation is successful if both parties enjoy finding common solutions. If you feel that you do not know how to negotiate, it is probably because its practice is associated with power struggles or a sharp confrontation of arguments. Negotiation is perceived as an intimidating and deterrent practice related to conflict. Wouldn't you be more confident if the art of negotiation was above all the art of interfering in the best possible cooperation? Roger Fisher and William Ury, law researchers at Harvard University, suggest that you try interest-based negotiation, a style of dialogue centered on each participant's interest, creativity, and good faith. For them, negotiation should be first and foremost a collaborative science designed to lead not to one but to several solutions to a disagreement. Ready to finally negotiate properly? Buy now the summary of this book for the modest price of a cup of coffee. Fisher, Ury & Patton's Getting to Yes, 2016 This is a Summary of Fisher Ury Patton's Getting to Yes Negotiating Agreement Without Giving In. The SAGE Handbook of Conflict Resolution Jacob Bercovitch, Victor Kremenyuk, I William Zartman, 2008-12-03 The SAGE Handbook of Conflict Resolution demonstrates the range of themes that constitute modern conflict resolution. It brings out its key issues, methods, and dilemmas through original contributions by leading scholars in a dynamic and expanding field of inquiry. This handbook is exactly what it sets out to be: an indispensable tool for teaching, research, and practice in conflict resolution. Peter Wallensteen, Professor of Peace and Conflict Research, Uppsala University and University of Notre Dame; Bercovitch, Kremenyuk, and Zartman are among the most important figures in the conflict resolution field. They have pieced together, with the help of more than 35 colleagues from numerous countries, a state-of-the-art review of the sources of international conflict, available methods of conflict management, and the most difficult challenges facing individuals and organizations trying to guide us through these conflict-ridden times. The collection is brimming with penetrating insights, trenchant analyses, compelling cases, and disciplined speculation. They help us understand both the promise of as well as the obstacles to theory building in the new field of conflict resolution. Lawrence Susskind, Professor and Director of the MIT Harvard Public Disputes Program. The last three sentences of this persuasive book: We conclude this volume more than ever convinced that conflict resolution is not just possible or desirable in the current international environment. It is absolutely necessary. Resolving conflicts and making peace is no longer an option; it is an intellectual and practical skill that we must all possess. If you are part of that, we intellectually or professionally, you will find this book a superb companion. Thomas C Schelling, Professor Emeritus, Harvard University and University of Maryland. Conflict resolution is one of the fastest growing academic fields in the world today. Although it is a relatively young discipline, having emerged as a specialized field in the 1950s, it has rapidly grown into a self-contained, vibrant, interdisciplinary field. The SAGE Handbook of Conflict Resolution brings together all the conceptual, methodological, and substantive elements of conflict resolution into one volume of over 35 specially commissioned chapters. The Handbook is designed to reflect where the field is today by drawing on the contributions of experts from different fields, presenting in a systematic way the most recent research and practice. Jacob Bercovitch is Professor of International Relations and Fellow of the Royal Society at the University of Canterbury in Christchurch, New Zealand. Victor Kremenyuk is deputy director of the Institute for USA and Canada Studies, Russian Academy of Sciences, Moscow. He is also a research associate at IIASA. I William Zartman is Jacob Blaustein Professor of Conflict Resolution and International Organization at the Nitze School of Advanced International Studies of Johns Hopkins University.
