Course Description:

A consideration of problems confronting our urban, post-industrial civilization and society. Topics may include poverty, racism, stratification and changing social roles in American and global society. Prerequisite: Introduction to Sociology (SOCI 101). 3 credits (3 lecture hours; spring semester)

Course Objectives and Outcomes:

The goal of this class is to further embrace "the socio-historical perspective" that you should have gained in the Introduction to Sociology and/or American History courses. This involves critical reflection and reaction to the society that surrounds you and the problems that we face that stem from our social arrangements and institutions. Some of the main concepts employed in analyzing society and which we will come to understand in the class are cultural relativism, ethnocentricity, bias, objectivity and subjectivity, conflict/critical social theory, institutional dysfunction, deviance, norms, values, and globalization. Each student should come out of the course utilizing the sociological imagination they have cultivated during the semester in order to better understand the nature of social problems at home and abroad.

The outcomes of the course include:

- understanding sociological methods and how they can be applied to the study of social problems;
- demonstrating knowledge of specific social problems that affect society;
- demonstrating an understanding of modern globalization as it applies to social problems;
- demonstrating the ability to describe the relationship between modern society and social problems;
- comparing and contrasting competing sociological theories in the context of social problems;
- analyzing four specific social problems and identifying competing solutions for each.

Attending class, taking notes, participating, and reading the assignments on time should allow you to successfully complete the objectives of the course. Your grade will reflect the effort which you put into achieving these objectives.

Required Resources:

- Textbook: This is a standard textbook with an emphasis on the conflict perspective of sociology.
D. Stanley Eitzen, Maxine Baca Zinn, and Kelly Eitzen Smith. 2012. Social Problems (2010 Census Update edition). 12th ed. Boston: Pearson. ISBN-13: 978-0205788088
The book is available at the college bookstore. Reading roughly one to two chapters a week will enhance your understanding of the topics of each weekly class session.

- Electronic reserve materials. Available on the course website (address at top of page).
The course website will offer required readings and viewing/listening assignments. You will be responsible for acquiring all resources as they become available on the course website. If you are unfamiliar with how to stream video or audio over the Internet, please see the professor for help.

You should bring to class your annotated readings, some paper for notes, a pen/pencil, and an open mind that is ready for discussion and debate.

These readings can be found on the course website and will be required reading to supplement weekly topics.

- Notebook & writing implement.

Social Work, Social Welfare, and Social Development in Nigeria Mel Gray, Solomon Amadasun, 2023-05-23 This groundbreaking book provides a comprehensive account of social work social welfare and social development in Nigeria from a postcolonial perspective It examines the historical development of social work and social welfare and the colonial legacies affecting contemporary social welfare provision development planning social work practice and social work education Against this historical backdrop it seeks to understand the position of social work within Nigeria s minimalist structure of welfare provision and the reasons why social work struggles for legitimacy and recognition today It covers contexts of social work practice including child welfare juvenile justice disabilities mental health and ageing as well as areas of development related problems and humanitarian assistance as new areas of practice for social workers including internally displaced and trafficked people and their impact on women and children It seeks to understand Nigeria s ethnoreligious diversity and indigenous cultural heritage to inform culturally appropriate social work practice This book offers a global audience insight into Nigeria s developmental issues and problems and a local audience social science and human service researchers educators practitioners students and policymakers a glimpse of what s possible when people work together toward a common goal It will be of interest to all scholars and students of social work development studies and social policy

Pedagogy of a Beloved Commons Sharon Egretta Sutton, 2023-06-06 A rare and powerful illustration of what it takes to become a sustainable community embedded organization that continually grows the next generation of passionate leaders This essential timely book meets us at our current moment of crisis to offer hope that American democracy s stalled trajectory toward its founding creed to embrace all and not just some can indeed be re invigorated Pedagogy of a Beloved Commons is about low income youth of color working within justice oriented community based organizations to improve the social and spatial conditions in their surroundings It draws from hundreds of pages of data some collected over a decade ago by graduate research assistants at three universities and some collected recently by a graduate research assistant at a fourth university to present verbatim quotes from interviews with constituents of three youth serving organizations The book posits that the disinvested neighborhoods where youth experience abandonment and marginality in fact can serve as a call to action given appropriate organizational support Pedagogy of a Beloved Commons envisions a place based critical pedagogy that can provide young people with the practical skills and deep values to engage with today s economic racial and ecological crises It offers a welcome antidote to a neoliberal education system that has not only veered away from its public mandate to advance democratic citizenship but that has also reinforced today s insidious economic inequality rendering illusive the idea that rich and poor can work together toward a common good Between these pages resonates a passionate call for an approach to cultivating citizens who have the critical skills to challenge injustice the courage to hold the rich and powerful accountable and the empathy to advance not just their own self interest but also the health and well being of their communities and the planet The author proposes that such citizens develop by exercising collective agency in the commons a political and psychic space whose values are mapped out in physical space Through the expert use of an architect s lens this groundbreaking book argues that the three dimensional concreteness of the nation s disinvested neighborhoods provides a virtual stage where disenfranchised youth can experiment with collective life become more discerning about the forces that have shaped their communities and practice working toward just and inclusive futures Merging Paulo Freire s seminal theory of critical pedagogy with Grace Lee Boggs s belief that hands on community building can disrupt the ever more destructive forces of neoliberal capitalism Pedagogy of a Beloved Commons refines an aspirational framework for a pathway forward through a careful analysis of three exemplar organizations It offers rich unique portraits of young people transforming their communities in southwest Detroit Wai anae and Harlem respectively illustrating place based activism through theater organic farming and critical inquiry Here activism is framed as the hands on engagement of youth in addressing inequities in the commons of their neighborhoods through small but persistent interventions that also help them learn the language of solidarity and collectivity that a sustainable democracy needs Pedagogy of a Beloved Commons is a must read for our times and for our future

Rethinking Civil Society in Transition Ester Sigillò,2025-10-01 This book illustrates the results of ethnographical research designed to shed light on the notion of civil society in a context characterized by the transformation of power relations Such transformation is given by shifting resources renewed local and international opportunities and a general reframing of goals and objectives The academic literature has usually relied on a substantialist understanding of the notion of civil society referring to the latter as something that exists a priori or does something This volume relies instead on a relational approach where civil society becomes the name we give to a host of complex interactions in which local associations are involved in a time of reconfiguration of power relations Building on this approach this volume analyses the relational dynamics affecting Tunisian associations after the fall of the authoritarian regime in 2011 and their implications for the changing political order Findings show two main interrelated trends the nationwide professionalization of local associations and the localized networking strategies of various socio political categories crossing the associational sector The book shows how their members understand the standardization of local associations as a strategy to have guaranteed access to the public sphere and therefore to influence the changing political order
