effects of the country's democratic institutions will diminish and instability will become an increasingly common feature of political contestation. An immediate but only partial remedy to the current state of affairs would be to prioritise transparency, accountability and leadership integrity within the system to restore trust in the bona fides of key institutions. The longer term challenge will be to counter a growing sense of economic exclusion where violent police action rather than democratic process is increasingly employed to stave off the manifestations of material anxiety experienced by struggling citizens. This edition of the Transformation Audit titled Confronting Exclusion focuses on instances of such exclusion but as in previous years also prioritises the search for inclusive economic policy and future strategies to address them. By looking at each of the four chapter areas it seeks to find answers to the challenge of a society in which the promise of true freedom and equal rights will remain only that until people feel equipped to be in charge of their own destiny and that of their children.
