Translation And Globalization Arabic Edition:

Translation and Globalization Michael Cronin, 2013-05-13 Translation and Globalization is essential reading for anyone with an interest in translation or a concern for the future of our world's languages and cultures. This is a critical exploration of the ways in which radical changes to the world economy have affected contemporary translation. The Internet, new technology, machine translation, and the emergence of a worldwide multi-million-dollar translation industry have dramatically altered the complex relationship between translators, language, and power. In this book, Michael Cronin looks at the changing geography of translation practice and offers new ways of understanding the role of the translator in globalized societies and economies. Drawing on examples and case studies from Europe, Africa, Asia, and the Americas, the author argues that translation is central to debates about language and cultural identity and shows why consideration of the role of translation and translators is a necessary part of safeguarding and promoting linguistic and cultural diversity. Translation,

Globalization and Translocation Concepción B. Godev, 2017-09-07 This book examines the spaces where translation and globalization intersect, whether they be classrooms, communities, or cultural texts. It foregrounds the connections between cultural analysis, literary critique, pedagogy, and practice, uniting the disparate fields that operate within translation studies. In doing so, it offers fresh perspectives that will encourage the reader to reappraise translation studies as a field reaffirming the directions that the subject has taken over the last twenty years. Offering a comprehensive analysis of the links between translation and globalization, this ambitious edited collection will appeal to students and scholars who work in any area of translation studies. Translation and News Making in Contemporary Arabic Television Ali Darwish, 2010 Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in Arabic Abeer Abdulaziz AL-Sarrani, 2016-03-25 This book explores the challenges of cross-cultural translation of American literary works into Arabic, which I argue have prevented many nineteenth-century literary works from being translated into Arabic. I have used the Arabic translations of Harriet Beecher Stowe's Uncle Tom's Cabin and an abridged English text accompanying one of the translations as a case study. Since most of the Arabic translations of English and especially American literary works are merely linguistic-oriented ones, I reinforce the importance of adopting a period-specific, cultural-oriented approach that maintains the cultural context of American literary works, including the historical, cultural, religious, geopolitical, and gender-based elements during the literary translation into the Arabic culture. I start with discussing the internationalization of American works and the importance of a cultural reading of these works. Reviewing many translations of English and American works in general, I categorize the challenges of cross-cultural literary translation from English into Arabic into the following cultural, religious, geopolitical, and gender-based ones. While I am not calling for accurate cross-cultural literary translations since it is impossible, however, I am advocating for faithful translations which maintain the literary text's cultural and historical contexts. The accuracy of a literary translation depends on the amount of linguistic skill a translator has, while the faithfulness of a literary translation is based upon the translator's sincere effort to include the literary text's entire cultural context including the historical, cultural, religious, geopolitical, and gender-based elements. Using Uncle Tom's Cabin as a case study, I discuss how the previous challenges had negatively affected the translation process of the work. Despite the fact the work has been translated seven times into Arabic, due to the linguistic-oriented approach, the historical and cultural significance of Stowe's novel has not yet been introduced to Arab readers through translation. Due to the current era of globalization that demands individuals to have multicultural knowledge and understanding and due to the recent cultural and translation projects of literary works from English into Arabic, this book reinforces the importance and possibility of addressing the cultural, religious, geopolitical, and gender-based challenges while using Uncle Tom's Cabin as an example.

Journalism and Translation in the Era of Convergence

Lucile Davier, Kyle Conway, 2019-04-24. How has convergence affected news and translation? Convergence is a chameleon taking a new colour in each new context, from the integrated bilingual newsroom of a legacy broadcaster to a newsroom in an outlet that has embraced multimodality from the very start. And yet, translation scholars studying the news have ignored convergence while media scholars studying convergence have ignored translation. They have missed the fact that convergence is intrinsically linked to language and culture. This volume brings together translation and media scholars to investigate different modes of convergence across platforms as they shape how journalists frame stories and understand their role in a multilingual convergent world. It opens a dialogue with scholars and students in applied linguistics, communication, journalism, languages, and translation, as well as translators, interpreters, and ultimately, journalists.

Globalization and Aspects of Translation

Juliane House, Marilyn Gaddis Rose, Said M. Shiyab, 2010-02-19. This book is for students of translation, interpretation, linguistics, and languages who would like to enhance their understanding of the relationship between these areas of study. More specifically, the book attempts to capture the quintessence or the epitome embodied in the concepts of translation and globalization. It also attempts to bridge the gap between the globalizing and globalized worlds. It brings to light the diversity of areas in globalization and aspects of translation that have impacted the notions of cultural communication, translator's code of ethics, metaphorical meaning, code switching, media, etc. Scholars from different parts of the world contributed to this book, representing countries such as the US, Canada, Germany, Portugal, Switzerland, Belgium, Austria, Tunisia, Bahrain, Jordan, and United Arab Emirates. Those scholars have done their research in their home countries or other parts of the world. Because of this diversity, the editors believe this book genuinely offers an international experience. Thirteen chapters cover different aspects of globalization in relation to translation. Areas covered include, but are not limited to, faces of globalization, English as the world's most prestigious language in its role as a global lingua franca, ELF as a threat to multilingualism, on-line resources designed for trainee and practicing interpreters, translation as a paradigm, and aspects of literary translation. Each chapter provides a blend of theory and practice and a demonstration on how globalization impacted the profession and the notion of cultural communication. Examples are drawn from English, Arabic, French, and other languages. This book can be used as a reference book and it can also be used at both graduate and undergraduate levels. Multilingual Computing & Technology, 2005. Translation Studies Abstracts/Bibliography of Translation Studies, 2005. Translation, Its Theory and Practice Avadhesh K. Schaler, 2009. Peter Singer, the best known and most controversial ethicist of our day, has done more than anyone else to make philosophical ethics relevant to the troubling moral issues that concern ordinary people and policy makers. Singer's views on such topics as world hunger, abortion, infanticide, the sanctity of life, and our treatment of animals have often aroused fierce opposition from political and religious leaders. Singer was subjected to violent attacks during his visits to Germany in 1989, 1991, and his appointment to a chair in bioethics at Princeton University led to noisy protests and threats of boycott. Peter Singer Under Fire includes Singer's intellectual autobiography in which he relates the events of his life and tells how he arrived at his contentious views, followed by fifteen essays from prominent critics of Singer, not all philosophers or academics, to each one of which Singer gives a careful and clear reply. BOOK JACKET. Iraqi Poetry Today Saadi Simawe, Daniel Weissbort, 2003. First major collection of modern Iraqi poetry available in the West. Multilingual Annual Resource Directory [and] Annual Editorial Index, 2007. Baha'i and Globalisation Margit Warburg, Annika Hvithamar, Morten Warmind, 2005. In this volume of the RENNERT series on new religion, the issue of religion and globalisation is treated with a single religion as the recurring example. The Baha'i religion has been carefully chosen for this context. Few other religions express so clearly in their doctrines the view that the world should be unified politically and religiously. These globalist views can clearly be traced historically all the way back to the origin of the religion in Iran in the mid-nineteenth century. The Baha'i religion developed with the emerging globalisation in the second half of the nineteenth century, and the Baha'i interaction with the globalised world suggests a general pattern for many religions. Likewise, globalisation presents the Baha'i organisation with new challenges. The book contains a selection of fifteen contributions from an international group of scholars studying the Baha'i religion. In preparing for the symposium that preceded this book, they were all challenged with the task of writing on Baha'i and globalisation using their different academic backgrounds and their particular expertise in the history and sociology of the Baha'i religion. The outcome of this exercise is the first comprehensive treatment of the Baha'i religion viewed in the light of globalisation. Bibliography of Translation Studies Lynne Bowker, Dorothy Kenny, Jennifer Pearson, 2000. A volume of selected annotated references arranged under specific headings to provide a non-partisan guide to teachers involved in designing courses in translation and/or interpreting. Arab Middle Class Khalid Abu-Isma'il, 2014. Bibliography of Translation Studies, 1998.
