policymakers Republicans and Democrats embarked on a general strategy of deregulation In the electricity gas delivery and telecommunications industries the strategy called for restructuring to separate production from transmission and distribution followed by elimination of price controls The expected results were lower prices and increased quality reliability and scope of services Paul W MacAvoy an economist with forty years of experience in the regulatory field here assesses the results and concludes that deregulation has failed to achieve any of these goals in any of these industries MacAvoy shows that we now have only partial deregulation a mixture of oligopoly structure with direct price control He explores why this system leads to
