Innovation in Energy Law and Technology Donald Zillman, Lee Godden, LeRoy Paddock, Martha Roggenkamp, 2018-03-16
There are few existential challenges more serious in the twenty first century than energy transition As current trends in energy production prove unsustainable for the environment energy security and economic development innovation becomes imperative Yet with technological challenges come legal challenges Zillman Godden Paddock and Roggenkamp assemble a team of experts in their field to debate how the law may have to adapt to changes in the area What regulatory approach should be used How do we deal with longer term investment horizons and so called stranded assets such as coal fired power stations And can a form of energy justice be achieved which encompasses human rights sustainable development goals and the eradication of energy poverty With a concept as unwieldy as energy innovation it is high time for a text tackling changes which are dynamic and diverse across different communities and which provides a thorough examination of the legal ramifications of the most recent technological changes This book which be of vital importance to lawyers policy makers economists and the general reader

Naval Power in Action Brent Droste Sadler, 2025-09-02 Naval Power in Action focuses attention to the United States current competition with China laying out a case for acting in three areas strengthen the homeland to economic coercion modernize and reorganize institutions to successfully compete and winning the positional fight with China over markets and military posture Amongst duck hunters there is a saying that describes our nation s current predicament in the competition with China shooting behind the duck It means that the actions our leaders have been taking for many years have been reactive and ineffective said another way missing their mark To correct this requires adjusting for the target s China s reaction and anticipating its course to aim for an interception point This book aims to inform a near term within four years approach to lead in this competition with China And there is not much time to begin getting the aim right This book refines ideas in Brent Sadler s first book U S Naval Power in the 21st Century and focuses attention to the present laying out a case for acting in three areas strengthen the homeland to economic coercion modernize and reorganize institutions to successfully compete and winning the positional fight with China over markets and military posture Achieving success in these three areas all requires urgent action with effects following in waves increased maritime presence followed by improvements in national industrial resiliency and capacities Doing this requires acting with what is at hand to deter China while setting the conditions for a sustained competition well into the future Bore sighting on China while necessary can be dangerous if it blinds the nation to other dangers our nation must be prepared and armed to be able to chew gum and walk as often eloquently stated by our political leaders Top of the to do list bolstering our economy s defense to coercion via a variety of vectors cyber sanctions direct attacks Most urgent is addressing the paucity of shipping on which the nation s economy floats This book is a roadmap for how to accomplish this complex task with urgency and effectiveness

Public Utilities Fortnightly ,2007 F & S Index United States Annual ,2007 The Energy Report ,1999 Hart's E&P. ,2009 Energy Joseph M. Dukert,2008-12-30 Energy We want it affordable we want it available in ample quantities and from reliable sources and we want it to be produced and used in ways that are safe and environmentally benign In other words we want plenty of energy too cheap to meter and with no impact on the environment Ha With a refreshing lack of bias this book dissects all major sources of energy from oil and coal to renewables like solar and wind power In an easy understandable style energy expert Joseph Dukert explains how each fits into the overall global energy mix that powers everything from automobiles and appliances to assembly lines and space stations As Dukert details all energy sources have pluses and minuses Those who champion any single energy source or even energy efficiency by itself as the sole answer to our energy problems are off track he argues as are the cynics who condemn one source or another or pooh pooh the threat of global warming In short we need every significant source of energy we have today while also making greater efforts to improve the efficiency of energy production and energy consumption Dukert also explores the choices made by individuals businesses and society as each group juggles conflicting interconnected factors affordability reliability adequacy of supply environmental concerns and time In explaining why there s no magic bullet solution to the energy crisis the author blends simple technical descriptions economics and real world politics Besides providing a cogent overview of a huge and hugely important industry this short comprehensive volume helps readers decide for themselves which choices are in their best interest As Dukert suggests energy independence is probably not a realistic goal for any country but the search for a dynamic practical energy balance can nonetheless result in a wiser national energy policy
