Emotional Intelligence 2.0 Kathrin Deshotels, 2020-02-29 Buy the Paperback version of this book and get the Kindle eBook version included for FREE. Being mindful of and displaying emotional intelligence ensures that you are aware of your emotions and your reactions to them, as well as to be able to evaluate and understand the emotions of other people. These days, there are many companies using it as a factor in their hiring practices, trying to see if people are empathetic or not. If you take the time to improve your emotional skills, it can improve your personal and your professional life, and it is a great way to help you to strengthen relationships, become mindful, and improve your communication. When you have emotional intelligence, you should be an expert at building and improving your ability to manage your emotions and connect with others. Among other topics, we will be discussing the four skills which are needed in order to have emotional intelligence: Self-Management, When you have the ability to control impulses, urges, and other negative behaviors; Self-Awareness, Being aware of your emotions and having the ability to control your reactions and responses; Social Awareness, Having the ability to read the body language of others as well as being able to interact with people without feeling socially awkward; Relationship Management, This means that you have the ability to pull out the best in everyone else around you, it is about you being able to inspire, motivate, and influence them, as well as making sure to build important bonds. An emotionally intelligent individual is both highly conscious of their own emotional even negativity, frustration, sadness, or anything else negative, has the ability to identify and manage them. These types of people can easily sense the emotions that others experience because they are so tuned into their own. When you show sensitivity to the emotions of others, both from within yourself and from your actual social environment, this can help you to become a better friend, leader, or mate to your romantic partner. The good news is that these skills can be learned, as well as tuned up. Some of the most intelligent people on this earth are the most unfulfilled and unhappy individuals in this world. We all know someone who may be academically brilliant but when it comes to their social status, they are not successful at all, and many of them have unhealthy and toxic personal relationships. Your intellectual ability is not enough by itself for you to achieve real success and happiness; you need to be emotionally intelligent as well, which will help to balance out your life. You may have a high IQ which will help you get into college, but having emotional intelligence will be what helps you learn to manage the stress and different emotions that you have to deal with when facing the challenges of life. It would be great to have an equal balance of both emotional intelligence as well as a high IQ, this way they will consistently build off of each other in order to make you a complete individual
