Summary

The story begins when a 15-16 year old fair-skinned, handsome teenage boy named Tarapada approaches Motilal Babu to request a lift on his boat. Motilal Babu is a wealthy landlord travelling on the boat with his wife Annapurna and 9-year old daughter Charushashi to his village Kanthalia where he is the zamindar.

Tarapada wants a lift to Nandigram. Motilal gladly allows him on board and even offers him lunch. On the journey, Annapurna questions Tarapada about his background. He reveals that despite being the darling of his family and villagers, he left home at a young age. He has a restless spirit and has joined and left various groups like a theatre troupe, panchali singers and acrobatic troupe, not staying at one place for long.

On the boat, Tarapada easily befriends the boatmen and helps with chores like cooking, rowing and steering the boat. One evening he impresses Motilal and Annapurna by enacting the story of Kush and Lav with songs on his flute. However, their temperamental daughter Charushashi feels jealous seeing her parent's affection for Tarapada.

The boat reaches Kanthalia where Motilal is welcomed by the villagers. Tarapada charms them too, except Charushashi. She feels jealous when she learns her friend Sonamoni is already familiar with Tarapada. In anger, she destroys Tarapada's flute but he remains unperturbed by her tantrums.

Impressed by Tarapada, Motilal and Annapurna decide to marry him to Charushashi to temper her wild nature. As wedding preparations begin, Tarapada starts learning English using Motilal's books. Charushashi disturbs his studies and they share a love-hate relationship. Finally, on the wedding day, just as Tarapada's family arrives, he mysteriously disappears, giving in to his eternal wanderlust once again.

In summary, the conflict between domesticity and quest for freedom is depicted through the charming yet detached Tarapada, who remains an elusive guest, leaving just before he is tied down by marriage. His restless spirit and wanderlust prevail despite people's affection.
