Afrikaans 2013 Paper 3:

Nelson Mandela Crain Soudien, 2017-03-22 The death of Nelson Mandela the great South African fighter for freedom in December 2013 prompted several colleagues within the World Council of Comparative Education Societies community to come together to think about the significance of his life and his work for education This book is the result of that coming together The contributing authors reflect on what his life the commitments he made and principally the values he took into the struggle for freedom in South Africa mean for education The point of departure for the book is that of honouring the man It begins with the argument that the values for which he stood namely the unconditional dignity of all human beings respect for difference and principally his lifelong commitment to justice have a special significance for how we as inhabitants of an increasingly connected and interdependent world conduct our personal lives our relationships with one another and with the material and living space which surrounds us It is an ecological approach As the world moves into a twenty first century where paradoxically we know so much and yet appear to understand so little and so find ourselves struggling to create social lives in which all of us can feel respected can offer respect to others and live lives free of fear and anxiety the values for which he stood have specific relevance for how we do the important job of teaching and what we put into it Mandela poses deeply provocative questions about the kinds of lives we seek for ourselves and for everybody else around us Assessing Multilingual Children Sharon Armon-Lotem, Jan de Jong, Natalia Meir, 2015-04-28 Second language learners often produce language forms resembling those of children with Specific Language Impairment SLI At present professionals working in language assessment and education have only limited diagnostic instruments to distinguish language impaired migrant children from those who will eventually catch up with their monolingual peers This book presents a comprehensive set of tools for assessing the linguistic abilities of bilingual children It aims to disentangle effects of bilingualism from those of SLI making use of both models of bilingualism and models of language impairment The book s methods oriented focus will make it an essential handbook for practitioners who look for measures which could be adapted to a variety of languages in diverse communities as well as academic researchers Handbook of Research on Sustainable Development and Governance Strategies for Economic Growth in Africa Teshager Alemu, Kassa, Abebe Alebachew, Mulunesh, 2018-02-09 Despite increasing reports across the globe on renewable development and maintenance little is known regarding what strategies are required for improved economic growth and prosperity in Africa Improving an understanding of the methods for promoting growth through reusable resource development and administration is a vital topic of research to consider in assisting the continent s development The Handbook of Research on Sustainable Development and Governance Strategies for Economic Growth in Africa provides emerging research on the strategies required to promote growth in Africa as well as the implications and issues of the expansion of prosperity While highlighting sustainable education pastoral development pathways and the public sector role readers will learn about the history of sustainable development and governmental approaches to improving Africa

Language and Institutional Identity in the Post-Apartheid South African Higher Education Leketi

Makalela,2022-03-21 This book examines the intersections between education identity formation and language in post apartheid South Africa with specific attention to higher education It does so against the backdrop of the core argument that the sector plays a critical role in shaping re producing and perpetuating sectoral class sub national and national identities which in turn in the peculiar South African setting are almost invariably analogous with the historical fault lines determined and dictated by language as a marker of ethnic and racial identity The chapters in the book grapple with the nuances related to these intersections in the understanding that higher education language policies overt and or covert largely structure institutional cultures or what has been described as curriculum in higher education institutions Together the chapters examine the roles played by higher education by language policies and by the intersections of these policies and ethnolinguistic identities in either constructing and perpetuating or deconstructing ethnolinguistic identities upon which the sector was founded The introductory chapter lays out the background to the entire book with an emphasis on the policy and practice perspectives on the intersections The middle chapters describe the so called White Universities Black Universities and Middle Man Minorities Universities The final chapter maps out future directions of the discourses on language and identity formation in South Africa s higher education The African Book Publishing Record ,2013 Cape Town
