- These activities are divided into:
  - Primary sector: It includes activities like agriculture, fishing, hunting etc.
  - Secondary Sector: It includes manufacturing and extraction.
  - Tertiary sector: It includes activities like transport, servicing, trading etc.
- All consumable activities are profitable due to the fact that they make contributions to a country's savings. However, society might not offer savings to individuals. Activities which give income as compensation to people who produce them are known as Market activities. However, not all individuals are free to pay market wages to people. Government activities, production of goods for sale, and non-market performance therapy. These market activities do not provide the individual an income. They are done for self-consumption. The income, if given, resulting a lower output than the demand, a lower pricing range is faced here usually.
- The non-market activities done by members are not paid. Hence are included as national income. However, if this activity, like cooking, is performed for someone then it can be included.
- Education and skills of a person determines how he can work, as skilled people can perform better work than a person without any skills. However, generally there are skills and their education that is not self-consumed but wages.
