Language Files Anouschka Bergmann, Kathleen Currie Hall, Sharon Miriam Ross, 2007 Academic Writing in a Second or Foreign Language Ramona Tang, 2012-01-12 It can be a challenge writing in a language that is not your native tongue. Constructing academic essays, dissertations, and research articles in this second or foreign language is even more challenging yet across the globe thousands of academics and students do so, some out of choice, some out of necessity. This book looks at a major issue within the field of English for Academic Purposes (EAP). It focuses on the issues confronting non-native English-speaking academics, scholars, and students who face increasing pressure to write and publish in English, now widely acknowledged as the academic lingua franca. Questions of identity, access, pedagogy, and empowerment naturally arise. This book looks at both student and professional academic writers using qualitative text analysis, quantitative questionnaire data, corpus investigations, and ethnographic approaches to searchingly examine issues central to the EAP field.

Doing Qualitative Research David Silverman, 2009-01-30 Written in a lively, accessible style, Doing Qualitative Research provides a step-by-step guide to all the questions students ask when beginning their first research project. Silverman demonstrates how to learn the craft of qualitative research by applying knowledge about different methods to actual data. He provides practical advice on key issues such as defining originality and narrowing down a topic, keeping a research diary, and writing a research report and presenting research to different audiences.

The Literature Review Diana Ridley, 2012-07-31 This Second Edition of Diana Ridley's bestselling guide to the literature review outlines practical strategies for reading and note taking and guides the reader on how to conduct a systematic search of the available literature and uses cases and examples throughout to demonstrate best practice in writing and presenting the review. New to this edition are examples drawn from a wide range of disciplines, a new chapter on conducting a systematic review, increased coverage of issues of evaluating quality and conducting reviews using online sources and online literature, and enhanced guidance in dealing with copyright and permissions issues.

Learning to Navigate Evaluative Meanings in English Academic Writing JIANPING XIE, 2024-11-04 Academic authors use various evaluative resources to express personal attitudes, opinions, emotions, or stances to persuade readers to accept their epistemic claims. However, expressing evaluation appropriately and effectively in English academic writing poses a significant challenge for L2 novice academic writers. This book is specifically designed to address this challenge for novice writers. It first explicates the notion of authorial evaluation in academic writing and sorts out major approaches to evaluation in Applied English Linguistics in the past three decades, foregrounding the advantages of the appraisal approach. The book then presents an integrated analysis combining a move analysis based on Kwan's 2006 generic model of literature review with an appraisal analysis applying Martin and White's 2005 appraisal taxonomy on Chinese novice writers' evaluation in MA thesis literature reviews. General features and problematic issues of the novice writers' demonstration of evaluation in English academic writing are identified and discussed, and a teaching model for explicit instruction on evaluation in English academic writing is proposed in the book with the aim to enhance novice writers' ability to express evaluation in academic writing. An enriched appraisal taxonomy is also proposed to promote the applicability of the appraisal framework in academic discourse.

The Writers Directory, 2013 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2006 The Writers Directory 2008 Michelle Kazensky, 2007-06 Features bibliographical, biographical, and contact information for living authors worldwide who have at least one English publication. Entries include name, pseudonyms, addresses, citizenship, birth date, specialization, career information, and a bibliography.

Professional Development in Applied Linguistics Luke Plonsky, 2020-07-30 Success in academia requires more than an understanding of discipline-specific literature and an ability to teach and do research. It is also necessary to develop an understanding of a range of professionally oriented skills such as how to identify and apply to doctoral programs how to make the most of conferences how to achieve a semblance of work life balance and how to land a job Unfortunately however training on such professional matters is often inconsistent and or idiosyncratic This book seeks to consolidate and demystify these critical and often misunderstood aspects of professional development in the context of applied linguistics Put another way this book is an attempt at the text many of us wish we had as we began our graduate studies Throughout the book readers will find anecdotes and insights informed by individual authors first hand experiences The resulting tone across the volume is that of a meet up with a trusted and thoughtful mentor As readers meet with these mentors it is the hope of this volume that their guidance will help move readers closer to realizing their professional goals in applied linguistics
