Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet,2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1837 edition Excerpt CHAPTER III What Josiah did when he was sixteen years old His strong faith in God in resolving to reform his people The wickedness of Judah at that time Manasseh s idolatry Account of Moloch and other false gods Manasseh s punishment and repentance Amon s great wickedness Extent of Josiah s kingdom His anxiety to do his duty In the eighth year of Josiah s reign or when he was sixteen years old the Bible tells us that he began to seek after the God of David his father We cannot conclude from this manner of speaking that Josiah had not felt before this time any true love to God and desire to obey his commands David commanded all the princes of Israel to help Solomon his son in building the temple of the Lord and said to them Set your heart and your soul to seek the Lord your God It will not follow from this that none of these princes had any true piety before Ezra a very pious man and a high priest among the Jews when he returned from Babyion with many of his countrymen who had been with himself in captivity there to their own city Jerusalem had prepared his heart to seek the law of the Lord and to do it He had doubtless often sought the Lord before that time We read of Hezekiah one of the kings of Judah that in every work that he began in the service of the house of God and in the law and in the commandments to seek his God he did it with all his heart and prospered I am inclined to think therefore that when it is said Josiah began to seek after the God of David his father it means that at that time he began with great earnestness to pray and to inquire in what way he could best serve God among his people and be a good king as David his ancestor had been We do not
