Art Of Advertising:

The Art of Advertising Julie Anne Lambert, 2020 Exploring the developing practice of advertising in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries The Art of Advertising presents illuminating essays alongside striking illustrations from the John Johnson Collection of Printed Ephemera Featuring rarely seen images from the 1700s to the 1900s by a wide range of artists including influential illustrators such as John Hassall and Dudley Hardy this attractive book invites us to consider both the intended and unintended messages of the advertisements of the past During this period advertisers pushed the boundaries of a new medium by exploring innovative printing techniques manipulating language inspiring new art forms and introducing advertising to unexpected formats such as calendars bookmarks and games This collection of essays examines the extent to which these standalone advertisements which have survived by chance and are now divorced from their original purpose provide information not just on the sometimes bizarre products being sold but also on class gender Britishness war fashion and shopping Starting with the genesis of an advertisement through the creation of text image print and format the authors go on to examine the changing profile of the consumer notably the rise of the middle classes and the way in which manufacturers and retailers identified and targeted their markets Finally they look at advertisements as documents that both reveal and conceal details about society politics and local history With contributions from Michael Twyman Lynda Mugglestone Helen Clifford Ashley Jackson and David Tomkins The Art of Advertising is a richly informative assessment of the role advertising plays in our culture

Art and Advertising Joan Gibbons, 2011-05-12. Art and advertising are often seen as potential enemies with the one being free from commercial concerns and the other dependent upon them. In this clearly written and wide ranging book, Joan Gibbons argues rather for a mutually enriching relationship between the two, showing how artists have reached a wider audience by embracing the tactics and mass media of advertising and how advertising has employed issues and strategies of contemporary art. Charting key points of overlap and antagonism, she looks at the work of artists from Andy Warhol, Barbara Kruger and Victor Burgin to Sylvie Fleury and Svetlana Heger.

and at landmark campaigns from Silk Cut to Benetton's Shock of Reality Exploring cutting edge advertising from the influential work of David Carson to Wieden and Kennedy's Nike campaigns and the art and advertising work of Tony Kaye she also looks at the increasing endorsement of art by highly branded products such as Absolut vodka to argue that art and advertising need not be mutually exclusive terms
