New Testament Miracle Stories in Ghanaian Mother-Tongues Abraham Boateng, 2024-08-05 This book examines the translations of selected miracle stories from the Hebrew Bible Septuagint LXX and the Greek New Testament into selected Ghanaian mother tongues considering possible shifts of meaning that occur in translating 1 Kings 18 25 38 Mark 9 14 29 and Luke 7 11 17 are used as case studies The author draws out semiotic hermeneutical nuances of these texts as they are understood in the Ghanaian context and addresses questions in the field of Biblical studies concerning the relevance of intercultural hermeneutics for current trends in Ghanaian Christianity Particularly important is the high premium placed on miracles in present day Ghanaian spirituality making a careful analysis of these stories particularly relevant for the Ghanaian audience The study also explores several factors that influence the translation process and have a bearing on the reception and use of the text It follows the growing calls for a shift in African Biblical hermeneutics from the theological heritage of Europe and America to the emerging theological trajectories of Africa This post colonial shift re examines the translated text moving from what the text might have meant to what the text might mean in Africa

Metaphors of ANGER across Languages: Universality and Variation Zoltan Kövecses, Réka Benczes, Veronika Széld, 2024-11-04 Anger is one of the basic emotions of human emotional experience informing and guiding many of our choices and actions Although it has received considerable scholarly attention in a number of disciplines including linguistics a basic question has still remained unresolved why do variations in the folk model of anger exist across languages if it is indeed a basic emotion rooted in largely universal bodily experience By drawing on a wide selection of comparable linguistic data from dozens of languages including a number of less researched languages this volume provides the most comprehensive account of what is universal and what is variable in the folk model of anger and why It also investigates the role that metonymies might play in the emergence of anger related metaphors and in what ways context influences or shapes anger metaphors and thereby the resulting folk model of anger No such volume exists in the cognitive linguistic literature on anger or on emotions for that matter The book is thus an essential contribution to the study of anger and will serve as basic reading for any researcher interested in how the conceptualization of anger is constructed via the interplay of bodily experience language and the larger cultural context
