The European Dimension of Germany's Energy Transition Erik Gawel, Sebastian Strunz, Paul Lehmann, Alexandra Purkus, 2019-02-07 This book addresses the interactions between Germany's energy transition and the EU's energy policy framework. It seeks to analyze the manifold connections between the prospects of the proclaimed Energy Union and the future of Germany's energy transition and identifies relevant lessons for the transformation at the EU level that can be learned from the case of Germany as a first mover of transforming energy systems towards renewables. The various repercussions political, economic, and systemic from the national transition are explored within the EU context as it responds to the German transition, taking into account both existing frictions and potential synergies between predominantly national sustainability policies and the EU's push towards harmonized policies within a common market. The book's overall aim is to identify the most critical issues in order to avoid pitfalls and capitalize on opportunities.

The Future of Sales in the B2B Software Industry. The Digitalization of Sales in German small and medium-sized enterprises Tim Schick, 2023-08-22 Master's Thesis from the year 2022 in the subject Business economics Trade and Distribution grade 1.3 European School of Business Reutlingen language English abstract In addition to an overview of the most relevant trends and the most promising digital methods as well as tools for sales, this master thesis will provide insights into the practical aspects of Digital Sales. A particular focus will be placed on the relevance and influence of Digital Leadership in the context of necessary change management regarding the digitalization of sales. Across all industries, digitalization leads to sustainable structural changes for companies of all sizes. New business models are emerging, existing business models are changing fundamentally, or are even disappearing altogether. Hardly any business area is spared from disruptive change. Therefore, also customer management and sales constantly face new challenges and opportunities. Familiar processes and methods have to be reassessed radically to ensure ongoing success. Companies have to learn to adapt their customer management to changing requirements. They cannot hope that customers will continue to move towards providers as they have in the past. This has profound consequences for sales. Existing processes have to change, salespeople have to adapt their skills and competencies to shifting customer expectations, and organizations have to review their structures. Companies that do not address the digital market changes today will not survive in the future. In contrast to U.S.-based companies, German companies have been hesitant to deal with the digitalization of sales so far. Business was excellent and sales were continuously successful. Thus, there was little need to change the status quo, especially in small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs). However, the COVID-19 pandemic abruptly changed business life. The entire sales cycle suddenly needed a redesign from customer acquisition to customer service. Ultimately, the pandemic began to change sales processes in German SMEs, and with that, also the mindset towards the digitalization of sales. Nevertheless, companies are still struggling to change. The vast number of options for optimizing sales processes seems unlimited. Which sales processes should companies digitize, and which should stay as they are Which aspects are critical to the success of effective sales management Who should be the initiator and motivator for digitalization measures in sales Moreover are the necessary skills and competencies even available

Covenants and Third-Party Creditors Daniela Matri,2017-10-17 This book adds to the debate on the effects of covenants on third party creditors externalities which have recently become a focus of discussion in the contexts of bankruptcy law corporate law and corporate governance The general thrust of the debate is that negative effects on third party creditors predominate because banks act in their own self interest After systematising the debated potential positive and negative externalities of covenants the book empirically examines these externalities It investigates the banks factual conduct and its effects on third party creditors in Germany and the US The study s most significant outcome is that it disproves the assumption that banks disregard third party creditors interests These findings are then interpreted with the tools of economic analysis particularly with the concept of common pool resources CPRs Around the aggregated value of the debtor company s asset pool as CPR exists an n person prisoner s dilemma between banks and third party creditors No creditor knows when and under what conditions the other creditor will appropriate funds from the debtor company s asset pool This coordination problem is traditionally addressed by means of bankruptcy law and collaterals However the incentive structure that surrounds the bilateral private governance system created by covenants and an event of default clause a CPR private governance system is found to also be capable of tackling this problem Moreover the interaction between the different regulation spheres bankruptcy law collateral and the CPR private governance system has important implications for both the aforementioned discussions as well as the legal treatment of covenants and event of default clauses Covenants alone cannot be seen as an alternative to institutional regulation the complete CPR private governance system and its interaction with institutional regulation must also be taken into consideration In addition their function must first find more acceptance and respect in the legal treatment of covenants and event of default clauses The CPR private governance system fills a gap in the regulation of the tragedy of the commons by bankruptcy law and collateral This has particularly important implications for the German 138 BGB 826 BGB and ad hoc duties to disclose insider information

Development of a Business Model Approach* Fabian Hoeft, 2019-10-24 Master's Thesis from the year 2019 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance grade 1.3 Niederrhein University of Applied Sciences Krefeld School of Business and Economics language English abstract Today's world of mobility is characterised by a high degree of dynamism and change is becoming apparent Currently around 45 million passenger cars with conventional combustion engines powered by diesel or petrol are registered in Germany The share of electric vehicles is still well below one per cent Nevertheless the voices for sustainable and environmentally friendly transport are becoming louder One political measure in this respect is the implementation of driving bans in major German cities for some conventional combustion cars Car electrification is a solution for converting cars with conventional combustion engines to electric drives In the context of this thesis car electrification is regarded as a transition solution towards a nationwide electrified transport network of new electric cars A comprehensive concept of a business model approach from a start-up perspective has been developed based on the analysis of the environment industry and customer needs Analysing the structure of the electrical conversion industry revealed that the subject of car electrification is hardly widespread and that current suppliers have only converted a smaller number of cars Besides the small scale of implementation the operational execution by existing suppliers can be considered weak in terms of competitiveness and sustainability The analysis of the needs of potential customers of car electrification using qualitative and quantitative methods has led to incredibly valuable insights for the development of the business model approach A high openness to purchase was expressed considering some of the factors mentioned such as a test drive with an electrified car before purchase and a durability guarantee of the conversion The high relevance of initial acquisition costs compared to operating expenses in the purchase decision for passenger cars is another precious insight The business model approach developed based on the findings obtained differs fundamentally from the strategies of today's providers By incorporating the existing infrastructure of workshops and service points proximity to the end customer and scalability of the business operation can be achieved Partnering with universities and industry are two critical elements in the development of a sustainable secure and user friendly technical solution

Understanding the Showrooming Phenomenon Christel Zaubitzer, 2014-08-25 Master s Thesis from the year 2013 in the subject Business economics Offline Marketing and Online Marketing grade 1 3 University of Münster Institute for Value Based Marketing course E Commerce language English abstract Showrooming is a phenomenon that describes a consumer s behavior of collecting information about a product or service in a physical store and purchasing it in an online store afterwards For retailers this behavior can be a major opportunity or thread To give insights into the phenomenon the thesis aims to determine a channel attributes that encourage or deject customers from attending showrooming and b how customer characteristics distinguish showrooming customers from customers who did not purchase online An empirical study collected data of 334 respondents via an online questionnaire 149 showroomers and 185 respondents who did not showroom during a recent product purchase were compared regarding their perceived difference of channel attributes in the offline and the online channel Further both groups were compared in various customer characteristics The results of the binary logistic regression reveal that among all observed channel attributes the difference in price service purchase convenience enjoyment and risk perception between the online and offline shop have a significant impact on the likelihood of showrooming whereas the assortment and after sales services did not show significant impact Among the observation of customer characteristics a positive attitude towards free riding towards shopping and retailer loyalty were found to have a significant impact on the showrooming likelihood The internet experience and the level of price consciousness showed no significant impact With the results the thesis supports physical retail stores to adjust the design of channel attributes in order to avoid showrooming behaviors of their customers It also helps retailers to identify customers that are more likely to attend showrooming and target them specifically to prevent them from attending showrooming     Lok Sabha Debates India. Parliament.
