Fundamentals of Hotel Housekeeping, 2020

Professional Management of Housekeeping Operations Delphina Fonseca, 2016-08-01. Every house, whether private like yours or commercial like offices, shops, hotels, hospitals, clubs, etc., needs to be kept clean and tidy so that it looks inviting to all. This is where housekeeping comes in. Cleaning and maintenance services can be spotted very easily anywhere. Today's professional housekeeper must be knowledgeable about staff diversity issues, building relations with unions, and maximizing the uses of available technology while staying aware of the bottom line. The professional housekeeper must also be aware of growing health and safety concerns.

Professional Housekeeper is an extra pair of hands, whether it's cleaning, laundry, ironing, or any other household chores. A housekeeper is a person employed to manage a household and the domestic staff. The housekeeper is second in command in the house and, except in large establishments where there is a house steward, the housekeeper must consider himself as the immediate representative of her mistress. Housekeeping managers see to it that hotel guests have adequate supplies both within their hotel rooms and in the public areas that they visit, such as the spa and washrooms. Different categories of hotel rooms entitle guests to different supplies. For example, in a standard room, guests might receive only bathroom supplies, while in executive rooms, hotel services could include mini-bars, laundry, and pressing services. It is the responsibility of the housekeeping manager to ensure that a hotel guest receives all the housekeeping services he purchased. Housekeeping managers receive and act on complaints from hotel guests relating to the state of their rooms or public areas. A hotel housekeeping manager is in a unique position to make recommendations about improvements to the hotel services due to his close interaction with the guests.

Professional Management of Housekeeping Operations is an invaluable tool for this ever-changing profession. With the advent of new technology, new markets, and new products, the rapidly changing responsibilities of the professional
