Business Process Management Umeshwar Dayal, Johann Eder, Jana Koehler, Hajo A. Reijers, 2009-08-27 The BPM Business Process Management Conference series has the ambition to be the premier forum for researchers in the area of process aware information systems. It has a record for attracting contributions in innovative research of the highest quality related to all aspects of business process management including theory, frameworks, methods, techniques, architectures, and empirical findings. BPM 2009 was the 7th instantiation of this series. It took place in Ulm, Germany, on September 8-10, 2009, organized by the Institute of Databases and Information Systems of the University of Ulm. This volume contains 17 contributed research papers and two contributed industrial papers selected from 116 submissions from 31 countries. The thorough reviewing process, where each paper was reviewed by three to five Program Committee members, was extremely competitive, as the acceptance rate of 16% indicates. In addition to the contributed papers, these proceedings contain two keynote papers and an outline documenting the invited keynote talks. Furthermore, a report is included on the collaboration structure in BPM research derived from an analysis of papers accepted for all past BPM conferences. In conjunction with the main conference, nine international workshops took place the day before the conference. These workshops fostered the exchange of fresh ideas and experiences between active BPM researchers and stimulated discussions on new and emerging issues in line with the conference topics. The proceedings with the papers of all workshops will be published in a separate volume of Springer's Lecture Notes in Business Information Processing series.

Business Process Management Gustavo Alonso, Peter Dadam, Michael Rosemann, 2007-09-04 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 5th International Conference on Business Process Management (BPM 2007) held in Brisbane, Australia, in September 2007. The papers are organized in topical sections on business process maturity and performance, business process modeling, case studies, compliance and change, process configuration and execution, formal foundations of BPM, business process mining, and semantic issues in BPM.

Multi-Attribute Decision-Making Based on Preference Perspective with Interval Neutrosophic Sets in Venture Capital Yanran Hong, Dongsheng Xu, Kaili Xiang, Han Qiao, Xiangxiang Cui, Huaxiang Xian, Fuzzy information in venture capital can be well expressed by neutrosophic numbers and the TODIM method is an effective tool for multi-attribute decision making. The distance measure is an essential step in the TODIM method. The keystone of this paper is to define several new distance measures; in particular, the improved interval neutrosophic Euclidean distance, and these measures are applied in the TODIM method for multi-attribute decision making. Firstly, the normalized generalized interval neutrosophic Hausdorff distance is defined and proved to be valid in this paper. Secondly, we define a weighted parameter interval neutrosophic distance and discuss whether different weight parameters affect the decision result based on the TODIM method. Thirdly, considering the preference perspective of decision makers in behavioral economics, we define the improved interval neutrosophic Euclidean distance with the known parameter of risk preference. Finally, an application example is given to compare the effects of different parameters on the result and discuss the feasibility of these two distance measures in TODIM method
