Transforming Otherness Peter Nynas, 2017-07-28

Today people in different situations and contexts face intercultural challenges These are a result of increasing mobility Sometimes such challenges are brought about by crisis situations and an international labor market However people also come in contact with each other through forms of new technology such as the Internet and through literature and film In these multicultural encounters misunderstandings and sometimes clashes are experienced This volume presents studies in culture communication and language all of which strive through a variety of theoretical perspectives to develop understanding of such challenges and perhaps offer practical solutions Encountering otherness may evoke fears negative attitudes and a corresponding will to dismiss the otherness in front of us either consciously or unconsciously This denial of otherness may also be subtle Thinking about otherness as described in this volume also raises questions about how otherness is represented and mediated and about the possible role of third parties in facilitating communication in such situations Sometimes a third party can play a crucial role in facilitating the communication process and serve as a channel of communication Trust in humanity as a bridge to community requires a subtle balance between representations of self and other Various problems arise in intercultural mediation which may be caused by cultural and political differences and these are sometimes used to validate stereotypical beliefs and images The editors argue that in both academic and art circles European perspectives have widely been understood as universal

Teaching Interculturality 'Otherwise' Fred Dervin, Mei Yuan, Sude, 2022-12-14

cases and theoretical reflections on the topic the editors and contributors from different parts of the world aim to stimulate more initiatives to enrich the field instead of delimiting it especially in complement to and beyond the West or Global North and also to build up further reflexivity in the way readers engage with interculturality in education This will be a must read for teachers and researchers of intercultural communication education at different educational levels as well as anyone interested in scholarship on education for interculturality Chapter 3 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons 4.0 license

Planning for Cultural Diversity Christine Inglis, 2008 How to ensure educational equality rights to cultural maintenance and full social participation of minority groups while ensuring social harmony and national development within a democratic society is a major challenge for education policy makers Traditionally this is viewed as a debate for pedagogues Nevertheless there are important implications for educational planners and managers Given the many varied patterns of ethnic diversity within individual societies and their different educational traditions no one set of educational responses is universally applicable However as discussed in the booklet there are certain readily identifiable processes to follow in developing responses to cultural diversity The three main foci of policy responses put forward are the organisation and structures of education curricula pedagogy and choice of language and relations between the school and the community
